

BLOODY RIOTS BREAK OUT IN PARIS

Local Option Resolutions Adopted At P.-T.A. Meeting

CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION IS PROPOSED

Present Conditions Caused by Sale of Liquor is Deplored at Conclave

PRESIDENT ELECTED

Copies of Resolution Will Be Forwarded to State Board of Equalization

Exploring present conditions relative to the sale of alcoholic beverages and recommending that local option be granted to political subdivisions and recommending that an education program be launched in schools of California, resolutions were adopted at a meeting of the Fourth District Parent-Teachers association at Garden Grove yesterday.

"We deplore the present condition in laws relative to alcoholic beverage sales," the resolution stated, "the permitting of local officers to arrest but not convict the offenders and we urge through all agencies that work be done towards better laws relative to this condition."

"We further recommend," the document asserted, "that local option be granted political subdivisions and that a policy be formulated by the state board of education for a state educational program relative to the evil effects of alcohol on the human body and that this program be presented to public schools daily."

It was ordered that copies of the resolution be sent to Verling Clessey, state superintendent of schools, to Willard Givens, president of the California Teachers association, and to William J. Hayes, president of the California P.-T. A., as well as to Hugh Gibson, president of the California Federated Church Brotherhood.

Elect President

During the business session Mrs. W. T. Kirven, of Garden Grove, was elected president of the Fourth District, defeating Mrs. Oliver Wickersheim, of Orange. Mrs. Guy Belcher, of Santa Ana, was elected second vice president, defeating Mrs. W. E. Crawford. Her total number of votes cast was 373 from the largest number of delegates ever to attend a fourth district meeting.

Another resolution was adopted asking the county board of supervisors to continue to support the county health department and public health nurse because their services cannot be valued intrinsically, and commending Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, for providing Dr. Mabel Geddis as health supervisor of rural schools. The resolution was ordered sent to the board of supervisors and to Dr. Sutherland.

Adopt Resolution

A resolution asking the state board of education to take care of the expense incurred by George Clerk, member of the California highway patrol, in taking motion pictures used in traffic and safety work in the schools of the county, was adopted.

A striking part of the program was a memorial service arranged by Mrs. W. M. Kelsey in honor of the late Mrs. Florence Summers of Newport Beach, not an Americanization and Indian affairs worker who died recently. Vladimir Lenski played a violin number which was a favorite of Mrs. Summers, "Believe Me"

BELGIUM WILL EXTEND STEEL WALL TO OCEAN

Plans Submitted to France by Staff; Swiss Frontier Unfortified

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)
PARIS, April 20.—(UP)—Belgium has decided definitely to extend along the German frontier to the sea the "wall of steel" which France has built on her part of the border from Switzerland to Belgium, it was learned today.

It was understood that Belgium staff submitted the plans to the French general staff, which made suggestions for further strengthening.

As plans now are, military engineers believe that between Germany on one side and France and Belgium on the other, there will be an invisible wall which no army can pass.

French authoritative circles said the Belgium wall probably would be completed within a year, when the two countries would lie behind fortifications of steel and concrete really extending from the North sea to the Mediterranean sea—far France's system of forts on the southeast extends from Switzerland to the sea along the Italian frontier. Only the Swiss frontier will be left unfortified.

France already has laid down the foundations of a fortified defense line on the French side of the Belgium frontier. After the Belgian forts are completed, an invader to reach France through Belgium will have to break through two separate lines.

The French "wall of steel" is known as the Maginot wall, built under the late Andre Maginot, war minister. This wall now ends at Belgium. Belgium is to take it up and extend it along the German and Dutch frontiers.

In the Belgian "wall" will be guns capable of shooting entirely over the narrow strip of Holland which extends southward between Belgium and Germany.

There will be separate forts, believed impregnable, backed up by a continuous line of machine gun "pill boxes," artillery posts, underground passages and fortifications.

Armoured airplanes, caterpillar-tracked automobiles carrying guns, mobile mortar batteries and mobile 5-inch guns will occupy the area.

Backing up the forts will be the Belgian lowlands. At any time Belgian army engineers will be prepared to flood them too deep for horses or cars to cross.

FRIENDS MOVE FOR DILLINGER PARDON

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 20.—(UP)—While home town friends of John Dillinger were circulating a petition asking that he be pardoned, state police officials today demanded cooperation of the public in apprehending the notorious outlaw.

The petition, containing a rapidly growing list of signatures, is making the rounds at Mooresville where Dillinger spent much of his youth and where his father still resides.

It urges that Gov. Paul V. McNutt issue a pardon on the condition that Dillinger surrenders to the nearest legal authority and agrees to abide by state laws and discontinue association with criminals.

SLAYER OF OFFICER EXECUTED IN CHAIR

CHICAGO, April 20.—(UP)—John Scheck, 31, who fatally shot a policeman during a frenzied dash for freedom from a murder trial courtroom, was put to death today in the electric chair.

"Early Bird" Sets Off Burglar Alarm

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(UP)—A government employee arrived at work a half hour early today and disrupted the capitol and Washington police force.

Anticipating a heavy day, C. F. Pace, senate disbursing officer, arrived at 8:30 a. m. He forgot to turn off the burglar alarm set for 9 o'clock. Bells rang all over the senate side of the capitol, bringing a squad of capitol police and a contingent of reserves from downtown.

NAVAL PLANES START FLIGHT TO ALEUTIANS

"Weather Factory" Will Be Survey by Navy; More Planes to Follow

BULLETIN
SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 20.—(UP)—Five navy airplanes left North Island today for Alaska where they will engage in a lengthy mapping expedition along the Aleutian island chain.

The first plane of the VJ-1 squadron took to the air at 9:11 a. m. and by 9:20 a. m. the last had soared through the haze to the northward.

The first scheduled stop was at Bakersfield.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 20.—(UP)—A naval survey of the Aleutian Islands—weather "factory" of North America—was to get under way today with the departure here of five navy planes of VJ-1 squadron.

Surface and submarine craft will join in the survey which will be of unprecedented scope under command of Rear-Admiral Sinclair Gannon.

The advance squadron had a complement of 15 men, commanded by Lt. Comdr. George T. Owen. After reaching its destination, the aerial party will chart and photograph the channels and the volcanic, little-known islands with powerful five-lensed mapping cameras costing $9,000 each.

The other aerial expeditions will follow. The second will be made in June by squadrons VP-7 and VP-9, now engaged in maneuvers at Panama. The third undertaking will be made in July with submarine division 12 participating.

STOCK MARKET BILL PASSES COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(UP)—The senate banking committee, by a vote of 11 to 8, today voted to report favorably the Fletcher bill to place the nation's securities exchanges under government regulation.

The committee concluded its work with a brief session in which last minute attempts to make further changes were voted down.

Senator James Byrnes, D. S. C., with six proxies, threw them to the side of those favoring control. Chairman Duncan U. Fletcher indicated he would file the committee's report as early as possible.

HUGH JOHNSON RAPS EDITORS DURING SPEECH

Reprimands Press for Saying He Had Declared Censorship

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(UP)—General Hugh S. Johnson today publicly reprimanded newspapers of this country for printing the charge that the National Recovery Administration had imposed a press censorship of any kind.

Johnson undertook to spank the press in a speech before the annual convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

The general turned the session into a confessional, described his problems frankly and, finally, stood toe-to-toe in argument with a succession of editors who took exception to his speeches.

Johnson told the editors he would not have lasted a month at NRA if he had been as incompetent as some newspapers allege or "were I the blustering jackass of some verbal and pictorial cartoons."

The general invited questions and told the editors not to pull their punches. Arthur J. Simont of the Newark, N. J., Evening News, told Johnson he was shocked to learn he felt the press had dealt unfairly with him.

Johnson denied news suppression but said he had been compelled to bar writers of "gossip columns" from his press conferences. He complained it was "unfair" of the press to criticize his order requiring all NRA officials to make their announcements through the publicity office.

Johnson said that he was not a politician, did not know the politics of his associates within NRA, but suspected sometimes that most of them are Republicans.

"We have been accused of a diabolical desire to impose a censorship on the press and the radio," he said. "Considering the articles and speeches in opposition to the president's program we certainly have made the poorest kind of mess if control of the agencies of publicity was one of our objects."

Johnson said however that had it not been for the newspapers, the NRA could not have been a success.

Simont said he "was a little shocked that you think you didn't get a square deal from the press."

"I didn't say that at all," Johnson replied. "I have no kick, except that some columnists have to write a column every day even when they have nothing to write about."

Independent Firms Fail To Compete

Bids far Below Maximum as Set in Department's Specifications

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(UP)—Major airlines whose contracts were cancelled were unopposed today in their efforts to retain control of the two central transcontinental systems as bids were opened by the postoffice department for temporary contracts over 17 routes.

Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., submitted a low bid of 24 cents per mile, 20 cents below the maximum in the department's specifications, for the route which it formerly operated from Newark, N. J., via Kansas City, Mo., to Los Angeles. Its bid was met by one of 39 1/2 cents per mile from American Airlines, Inc., formerly the American Airways.

United Airlines, Inc., operating subsidiary of the United Aircraft and Transport corporation, offered to carry mail from Newark via Salt Lake City, Utah, to San Francisco and Oakland, Calif., for 35 cents per mile, four cents below the maximum. Its bid was the only one submitted on the route.

Meet Later

At least one bid was submitted on all 17 routes, and Haulier Branch, second assistant postmaster general, announced that department officials and representatives of the justice and commerce departments would meet later today to determine whether bids complied with eligibility rules under the specifications.

Bids were opened at noon in the office of Stephen A. Cleser, superintendent of airmail, before a crowd of 200 airline executives, official witnesses and curious onlookers. Clarence Chamberlin, famous transatlantic flier, stood on a chair in the rear of the room to watch. Farley occupied a place at the head of the table reserved for department officials.

Some of the former contractors submitted bids which were so low that the crowd broke into whistles of surprise when the prices were announced. Eastern Airlines, Inc., formerly Eastern Air Transport, submitted a bid of 19 1/2 cents on the route from Newark via Washington and Atlanta to New Orleans, on which the department had placed a maximum of 44 cents.

The lowest bid submitted was 17 1/2 cents per mile from the Pacific Seaboard Airlines, Inc., from Chicago to New Orleans.

Bids on four additional routes, including the so-called Southern and Northern Transcontinental

WIDOW OF MAN LYNCHED IN SAN JOSE SUES GOV. ROLPH AND OTHERS FOR MILLION

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—(UP)—A suit for $1,000,000 damages was filed here today in superior court against Gov. James Rolph, Jr., the San Jose News, radio station KQW, 12 identified and 100 unidentified persons for the lynching of John M. Holmes, accused kidnaper, in San Jose last November 26.

The action was brought by Mrs. Evelyn Holmes, widow of the victim, and her two small children, David and Joyce. Damages of $50,000 were asked for loss of "the care, society, comfort and protection" of Holmes, who, with Thomas Thurmond, was lynched by a mob for allegedly kidnapping and killing Brooke Hart, son of a wealthy San Jose merchant.

Vincent Hallinan and Nathan C. Coghlan, the attorneys for Mrs. Holmes and the children, also asked in behalf of their clients the sum of $1,000,000 exemplary and punitive damages. The million dollar amount was sought by reason of the "willful, felonious, malicious and oppressive" action of the defendants.

The complaint also charged the defendants with murder and with conspiracy to bring about the lynching. At no point did the complaint comment on the guilt or innocence of Holmes.

Among the defendants listed were 10 unidentified San Francisco policemen, 40 other unidentified San Franciscoans, Sheriff William J. Emig of Santa Clara county, H. Collins and Frank Rafferty, San Jose police officers; Charles O'Brien and Paul Maggie, San Jose merchants; Adolph B. Canelo, physician; John Seibro, restaurant employee; Robert Delmas, student; Anthony Cataldi, alleged mob member; Fred J. Hart, C. B. Dahl and E. P. Hart, owners and operators of KQW, and approximately 50 unidentified mob members.

GREAT BRITAIN WILL STAND BY VALLEY LABOR 9 POWER PACTS DISPUTE ARED

Will Resist Any Attempt to Override Treaties Affecting China

LONDON, April 20.—(UP)—Great Britain will stand by treaties affecting China and will resist any attempt to override them when and if they are challenged, official quarters asserted today.

Discussing statements by a Japanese foreign office spokesman regarding Japan's far eastern policy, a commentator said that treaties involved were primarily the nine power treaty, and the four power bankers' consortium concerning China. The Japanese spokesman had emphasized Japan's intention to ensure far eastern peace in its own way.

The official view as explained today indicated Great Britain would not openly disclose its reaction until a test case arose. It was said there had been no exchange of views with other governments since the Japanese "hands off" statement.

European newspaper comment on statements from Tokyo showed general anxiety.

The London Daily Herald's diplomatic correspondent quoted a Japanese war office spokesman as saying to the Nishi Nishi Shimbun:

"The nine power treaty is dead. The United States and European countries which are ignorant of real conditions in the Far East should look aloof from affairs in China, and should realize that the nine power treaty has ceased to have any significance."

The Peiping correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph, commenting on the war office spokesman's reported statement, reported that Chinese were deeply worried, and asserted that unless signatories of the treaty were prepared to help China, "the way is paved for complete Japanese domination."

SILVER SOLUTION UP TO AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(UP)—President Roosevelt was represented today at the White House as convinced that solution of the silver problem must be sought through international agreement.

Questioners were informed Mr. Roosevelt still stands on the silver-gold proposal presented last year to the London Economic Conference but which was not adopted. Particular interest attached to this statement today because of the silver conference in which senators and administration officials are to meet with the president at noon tomorrow.

BOMB EXPLODES IN HAVANA

HAVANA, April 20.—(UP)—Explosion of former President Gerardo Machado and General Alberto Herrera, his army chief of staff, may be asked of the United States immediately, it was learned today. The special penalties court appointed to inquire into activities of Machado and those who served with him, was understood to have instructed Prosecutor Pablo Lantini to request the Cuban state department today to ask for extradition of Machado and Herrera.

COMMUNISTS AND POLICE IN CLASHES

Gendarmes Strive to Prevent Demonstrators from Reaching Main Streets

NO SHOTS ARE FIRED

Police Cars Cruise About Streets and Take Suspicious Ones to Jail

PARIS, April 20.—(UP)—Violent fighting broke out late today between police and Communist demonstrators.

The first outbreak occurred at 5:40 p. m., when police charged Communists with their fists. The lesson of bloody Feb. 6 having been learned, the authorities dispensed with clubs and firearms.

Scores emerged from the conflict with blood streaming from their faces.

Another serious clash occurred when 500 Communist war veterans, led by three one-legged war heroes, tried to smash through the police cordon in the Rue de Rivoli.

The streets were slippery from a driving rain and many went down in the struggle.

The rioting, inspired by the dissatisfaction of Communists, war veterans and Socialists over the country's economy decrees, including the cutting of civil service salaries and pensions, was met by a formidable turnout of police.

Thousands of Communists abandoned work in factories to join the demonstrators. Police expected the trouble to continue until midnight, but strove to prevent rioters from reaching the main boulevards.

Police, using their bare hands, drove the Communists down the side streets from the Rue de Rivoli, making scores of arrests.

Police cars cruised in the neighborhood, gathering in suspicious-looking pedestrians and hurrying them off to jail under "preventative arrest." Two policemen were injured. During the first hour of rioting, no shots were fired. Police made 300 or more arrests, including boys and women who had jeered at them.

INSULT IN HIGH SPIRITS

SS EXILONA, AT SEA, April 20.—(UP)—Out of sight of land for the first time since he boarded the Exilona at Smyrna, Samuel Insull, returning to the United States to face prosecution on fraud charges, proved himself a good sailor today.

The Mediterranean was choppy, as the ship steamed along the north African coast, but Insull ate heartily and maintained his good spirits.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(UP)—Any plan calling for wholesale purchase of silver to boost the price in the world market will be rejected by President Roosevelt, it was indicated clearly today at the White House.

NEW YORK, April 20.—(UP)—Dr. John F. (Jafsa) Gondon today failed to identify a photograph of William Lardner, Leavenworth penitentiary convict, as that of the mysterious "John" to whom he paid $500,000 Lindbergh ransom. "In facial contour the two are altogether different," Gondon said.

Farm Group, Supervisors Join In Farm Loan Request

INCREASE IN APPRAISALS IS BEING SOUGHT

An appeal to Senator W. G. McAdoo and to Hamilton H. Cotton, of San Clemente, to cooperate in procuring higher property appraisals in Orange county for federal land bank loans, was issued today by the county supervisors and the Orange County Farm Bureau, in the form of letters signed by the heads of the two organizations, Willard Smith, of the supervisors, and Felton B. Browning, of the farm bureau.

The letter to Senator McAdoo, to which Cotton's attention was directed, urged that "the federal land bank laws providing that land be appraised at 80 per cent of its value, plus 20 per cent of the appraised value of improvements, be made operative in Orange county."

Average earnings of 16 properties over a period of 10 years should be taken, to determine appraisals, said the letter. These would justify loans of at least $1000 an acre, it was declared. Even the highest loans of $750 that have been made in a few cases in this county are far too low, said the letter, when based upon earnings shown by the records of the government's own agricultural extension service.

"Certain individual groves have maintained a record of earnings, even during the last three years, which would justify loans in excess of $1000 per acre, a fact which cannot, in fairness, be overlooked," said the letter. "Indeed, the national recovery program" it was stated, is based on normal standards and values, or higher. "The major structure of land values in this county is built around the returns from agricultural crops. These returns have justified a valuation which has made a loan of $1000 per acre on good Valencia orange groves a conservative loan. The policy of the land bank in making drastic cuts from this proven and sound policy is forcing many farmers to lose their farms, their homes, through inability to refinance, which is the purpose for which the federal land bank exists."

LOCAL OPTION SUPPORTED AT P.-T.A. MEETING

If All Those Endearing Young Charmers, with Mrs. Emma Moore Seams, of Yorba Linda, at the piano.

Chief Standing Bear, friend of Mrs. Summers, was given a life membership in the P.-T. A. in honor of his friendship with Mrs. Summers. Other friends who spoke in her honor were Mrs. Sun Flower Jones, daughter of Chief Bear, Carl F. Seams, Ida E. Mickelbacker, Jonathan Mickelbacker and Mrs. J. Tibbets, of Riverside, Mrs. Juanita Yorba and Mrs. E. Cole, of Fullerton.

In the afternoon session, a symposium on leisure time activities of children was conducted, with three speakers addressing the group.

Harrison E. White, Orange county Boy Scout executive, discussed means of furnishing wholesome activities for the leisure time of younger children, declaring that unless children of today understand how to use their leisure time, America is doomed.

Hit Dance Halls
Declaring that dance halls and beer gardens are a challenge to youth and homes and that a program must be planned which will be of more interest and of more value than any other activity, Guy Marsh Hoyt, state chairman of juvenile protection and probation officer of Los Angeles schools, discussed a program for high school, junior college and younger students. Young people who do not have work must be provided with facilities for wholesome activities, he said.

Mrs. James K. Lytle, president of the Tenth District, spoke on the part the home may play in the leisure time program. She said that adults have had the tendency to push their leisure time program into the schools and that the home was only a filling station. Children should have playmates of their own age, a yard to play in, and to Senator Hiram Johnson, Governor W. A. Meyers, of the farm credit administration, and Congressman Sam L. Collins.

Asserted mob members named in the suit were identified from photographs of the crowd that gathered around the jail in San Jose the night of the lynching, according to Hallinan.

Holmes was arrested and imprisoned for the kidnapping with "no warrant or indictment," the complaint alleged. After his arrest and while "imprisoned awaiting charges of complicity to the kidnapping and murder," Hart, Mrs. Hart and Dahl, owners of KQW, and the San Jose News "actively and by public announcements, editorials and indictments, inflamed and enraged the minds of other defendants against Holmes.... to deprive him of the right to be tried for the alleged offense and to remove him from the custody of constituted authorities and to kill him by lynching."

For the purpose of facilitating the lynching, the complaint said, the San Francisco policemen returned Holmes to the San Jose jail, following which the defendants stormed the jail and lynched Holmes.

Governor Rolph and Sheriff Emig "abetted and encouraged the mob and the other defendants," the complaint said; the governor, by announcing that "protection would not be afforded" Holmes and that he would pardon any person who assisted in lynching him and because "he failed and refused to send protection to Holmes while the mob was in the act of breaking into the jail."

The governor, the complaint alleged, reiterated after the lynching his "promise to pardon any person engaged in said lynching and approved and applauded the action of the mob," thereby violating his oath of office.

Sheriff Emig, the complaint said, encouraged the mob, withdrew protection, disarmed his deputies and "connived, consented and assisted the mob to remove his prisoner and murder him."

men, not columnists," Sinnott retorted. Johnson said he believed that columnists also were newspapermen.

Sinnott then said he didn't know that newspapers were the "sweatshops" that President Roosevelt intimated some of them were in a statement during the newspaper code negotiations.

"The president said it," Johnson replied, "but I drafted that statement and I am sorry for it. It was an unfortunate expression."

Sinnott said he did not believe that the reporters in the better newspaper plants needed a code.

"That's part of your grouch," Sinnott said. "Reporters all act differently. The good ones get the breaks and the poor ones don't."

Stephen Bolles of the Janesville, Wis., Gazette, told the General that one trouble with the NRA was that it had attempted to tell only its side of the recovery story. "There will always be criticism in any public question," Bolles said. "You can't stop it. You shouldn't try."

OLD AGE PENSION SPONSOR TO SPEAK HERE NEXT TUESDAY

In response to a demand for another lecture on the Old Age Revolving Pension Plan, J. T. Dr. Townsend, originator of the plan, will be present.

COURT VOIDS LICENSES OF DRUNK DRIVERS

Three defendants charged with drunk driving today were sentenced to jail terms or, in one instance, deportation, with their driving licenses permanently cancelled, as a condition of probation granted them by Superior Judge James L. Allen.

Jesus T. Garcia whose offense was committed in Santa Ana canyon April 8, was placed on probation for five years, with a jail sentence of one year, this being suspended on condition that he go to Mexico.

Lawrence Rivera, Atwood, who was arrested following a wreck in Santa Ana canyon March 31, was granted probation for five years, but must serve a year in jail. His driving license was permanently cancelled.

Ray Valenzuela, arrested for a similar offense April 4 near Fullerton, must serve six months in jail, as a condition of three years probation. His driving license also was cancelled.

David F. Drake pleaded guilty to drunken driving and asked for probation. His hearing was set for April 27. His offense was committed April 11 on South Main street, Santa Ana.

V. W. Baker, Sam Ross and Loren Finley, charged with contributing to the delinquency of an 18-year-old Anaheim girl, pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial, which was set for May 16.

man, the property owner, to young people hoping to begin their life work or to the man or woman looking for a job," Nichols said in announcing the meeting.

The plan provides that any man or woman more than 60 years of age who is a citizen and whose past life is free from criminality, may retire from labor for gain on a pension of $200 a month, if he or she takes oath to spend in the United States within a period of 30 days the entire amount of the pension.

WILL ROGERS says:

SANTA MONICA, April 20. (To the Editor of The Register:—) In opposite columns appear these two different items: "Lexington, Mass. citizens march to Washington as in Revolutionary days, to protest the government having anything to do with business;" "Washington, D. C., Secretary Perkins reports 2,750,000 employed in past year. Employment in March was 80 per cent of what it was during peak of 1923-25 average. Weekly pay rolls increased $70,000,000 in twelve months, since last March."

So it looks like the boys from Lexington will find quite a few along the line of march too busy to join 'em. I imagine it would be awful hard to ruin a country by paying wages.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

PROPERLY FUNERAL
SET FOR SATURDAY

Funeral services for Ervin E. Epperly, 20, Anaheim youth who died Wednesday night from injuries received on April 8 in a wreck near Fullerton, will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. from the home of Mrs. Campbell at 832 1/2th Philadelphia street.

The Rev. Ray C. Harker of the White Temple Methodist church will officiate. Interment will be in the Anaheim cemetery.

Epperly, a native of Anaheim and former student at the Anaheim Union High school, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Epperly, four brothers, Fred Jr., James, Oliver and Donald, and two sisters, Bessie and Loretta, all of the home at 832 1/2th Philadelphia street.

Coroner Earl Abbey will not conduct an inquest for Epperly because one was held soon after the wreck for Mrs. May McCay of Huntington Park, who was killed in the crash. The death of Epperly brings the total in the county this year to 21 from traffic accidents.

JACKSON LIFTS BADGE OF HIS CHIEF OFFICER

An open break between Sheriff Logan Jackson and his under-sheriff, Charles W. Riggle, developed today when Sheriff Jackson's action in removing the under-sheriff's badge, and notifying him of his dismissal.

The sheriff declined to comment upon the matter further than the brief statement that his action was taken "for the good of the service."

Riggle, said Sheriff Jackson, had indicated to him several days ago that he expected to resign shortly. No light was thrown upon the under-sheriff's reasons for contemplating such a step, but the sheriff indicated that he felt that the welfare of the service prevented him from waiting longer for a resignation.

Riggle, the sheriff said, was requested to turn in his badge at a private conference with the sheriff this morning. It was stated that Riggle was entitled to a few days' vacation, so was notified that he could take such vacation before his dismissal would be actually in effect.

Sheriff Jackson said that he was not ready today to name Riggle's successor as under-sheriff.

Riggle made a statement on the matter, declaring that he had not been dismissed and that the sheriff's announcement that he had taken Riggle's badge from him was not a fact.

"This morning, at our conference," Riggle said, "I myself, suggested that I turn in my badge and keys. There was nothing said or intimated that I was being dismissed."

When religion moves mightily, enmity between men and groups disappears and they move together toward one purpose," Bishop Baker said, "I do not know what can help us through the fog like the cleansing light of religion. The church binds together living generations in a way nothing else can do, giving them an opportunity to understand each other. In the Orient a single generation has moved from a feudal time to a modern world, and we, ourselves, lived in a vastly different world than which our children find themselves."

The need of youth in the church was told by the bishop who said that a Grecian orator once said in viewing the bodies of a number of youths slain in battle, "To take the youth out of the nation is like taking the spring out of the year."

Outside wrong influences must be resisted by inside braces, said Bishop Baker, as he told of the present need of sharp convictions of right and wrong. R. C. Patton, president of the union presided and the speaker was introduced by Dr. James E. Gelsing, superintendent of the San Diego district.

Music was in charge of the director of music of the White Temple church of Anaheim, Edwin C. Dunning.

Elect Merrill
Officers were elected at the close of the meeting following a report by the head of the nominating committee, the Rev. Grover C. Ralston of Garden Grove. Burton Merrill of Fullerton was elected president. Lucien Proud of La Habra, vice president, and Miss Mamie Dennison of Santa Ana, permanent secretary and treasurer.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the White Temple church in Anaheim.

At the dinner hour in the Epworth hall of the Orange church a musical program was presented by the Young People's chorus of the Orange church under the direction of Mrs. George Swift Harper. "The Clock" was sung by Eleanor Kolikhorst, Mary Tom Cox, Janice Vinhorst, Mary Pease, "The Sand Man" by Zara Sergeant, Loralee McCull, Elizabeth Crawford and Elizabeth Watson, and "Sympathy," by a double quartet formed by both groups. Carol Mae Larson was the accompanist.

Discussion groups of pastor and laymen meeting in the morning and afternoon, considered problems of the church which included social and international outlooks. Dr. J. E. Dunning, of the Orange church who heads the conference committee on these matters, spoke briefly at the afternoon session, telling of some of things being done by the committee.

A unity of opinion existed at both sessions that the church has a definite responsibility in helping to solve the social and economic problems of today. The discussion were centered on means of bringing about more harmonious conditions along these lines.

One of the important discussions sponsored by the union was that of "Economics—What is the responsibility and position of the Church?" R. R. Lutes was chairman with Dr. Graham C. Hunter as the discussion leader.

Admit Responsibility
During this discussion it was brought out that the church has been a laboratory where the rich and the poor, the white collar man and the laborer have learned to co-operate. That the church has a definite responsibility toward society was conceded in the discussion, Dr. Hunter declaring that for the past 40 years the church has been a power in social gospel and has been an influence in creating a more human world.

Whether the social outlook of the church has been changed by the depression of the past few years, or whether the change is the result of a new concern in others, was a question discussed at length. Dr. Hunter brought out that in previous depressions concern in the welfare of society as a whole was not evinced.

Judge Kenneth Morrison led the discussion on "Our Boys—Is the church meeting its obligations?" Harrison White, Boy Scout executive secretary and J. B. Wilbur, secretary of the Orange Y. M. C. A. were the speakers. Judge Morrison urged that parents avoid criticism of others before children and urged that when children are taken to motion picture shows, unreal situations should be declared as such on the return to homes. White urged more of a spirit of "let's play the game" and less "thou shalt not" in the home. Wilbur

Maxwell Benson, employee of the Irvine ranch, was cleared of blame concerning the death of Frank Seidel, 42, Santa Ana butcher, whose car was struck by Benson's machine, Dr. John Ball and Dr. D. A. Harwood, who attended the injured men, and Floyd W. Howard, chief of police.

It was testified that Benson started to pass Barry's car on the right side and crashed into the rear of the McClure car at 906 South Main street. Benson and Seidel were seriously injured and taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital. Dr. Ball, Dr. Harwood and Howard declared that neither of the men had been drinking. Seidel suffered a fractured skull, arm, leg and jaw, as well as severe lacerations.

Funeral services for Seidel were held this afternoon from the Smith and Tutthill funeral home, followed by private interment.

Seidel is survived by his widow, Mrs. Juanita Seidel, two brothers, William Seidel of Tucson, Ariz., and Fred Seidel of Westwood, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Leith and Mrs. Elizabeth Smithwick of Santa Ana.

CHURCH HAS RESPONSIBILITY IN SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC PROBLEMS; NEED FREE SPEECH

The crisis which faces the church today in common with other institutions of the nation, was outlined last night in an address given at the Orange First Methodist church by Bishop James C. Baker, of the San Francisco area, at a meeting of the Orange County Methodist union in that city, the meetings of the union following an all day session of ministers and laymen of Methodist churches of communities of the county and adjacent communities.

Not only is the church at a crisis in a changing world, in an epoch the like of which the world has never seen, but industry, educational institutions and government, are in a like position, Bishop Baker declared. Men are wondering today, he said, whether democracy will continue, why education does not more nearly fulfill its purpose and turn out more socially-minded people and they realize that there must be new forms of industrial relations.

The right of free speech, a free press, a free pulpit and a free pew, were emphasized by the speaker who stated that many Americans still deny the right of free speech and free assembly. In political life the only way to have democracy is by free speech, said the speaker, as he quoted Woodrow Wilson as saying that in repression is the seed of revolution.

Grouns Unite
"When religion moves mightily, enmity between men and groups disappears and they move together toward one purpose," Bishop Baker said, "I do not know what can help us through the fog like the cleansing light of religion. The church binds together living generations in a way nothing else can do, giving them an opportunity to understand each other. In the Orient a single generation has moved from a feudal time to a modern world, and we, ourselves, lived in a vastly different world than which our children find themselves."

Winding up a rush of taxpayers that reached its peak yesterday County Tax Collector John C. Lamb was ready to close his tax windows sharply at 5 p. m. today for the collection of final installment payments of 1933-34 taxes.

After that hour all taxes will go delinquent, and incur a three per cent penalty, which added to the eight per cent penalty already applied to delinquent first installments, will make a total of 11 per cent on first and three per cent on second installments or an average of seven per cent on the whole.

Tax payments are coming in great volume, however, and the delinquencies should be no greater than normal said Lamb. He was unable to estimate, because of the great mass of mail not yet opened, what proportion of the taxes remained unpaid today.

Two women were injured at virtually the same moment in two wrecks at 6 o'clock last night in Fullerton, it was reported by the Fullerton General hospital, where the women were treated.

Mrs. Seth A. Manning, 54, 292 South Popular street, Brea, was hurt when a car driven by Seth Manning and a machine driven by Mrs. Lillian J. Vinson, 38, 311 Richmond street, Fullerton, collided at Chapman and Richman streets. The Manning car was overturned.

When cars driven by Harry L. Fellings, 45, 1228 North Harvard street, Fullerton, and Delma R. Humphrey, 30, Compton, collided at Highland and Chapman avenues, Miss Lenore Curtis, 135 Ramona drive, Fullerton, was injured.

Boy Helpless After Breaking Arms
Young Billy Sandon, 11-year-old son of Robert H. Sandon, investigator of the district attorney's office, is in a tough spot today.

Billy finds himself almost entirely helpless after having broken both arms when he fell from a loquat tree at his home, 903 Garfield street yesterday afternoon. He was picking fruit when a limb broke and he crashed to the ground.

He is reported to be getting along as well as can be expected, but it's some predicament when a lively youth finds both of his hands and arms literally tied down so he can't use them.

ARREST FOUR FOR ASSAULT AFTER BRAWL

As the result of a drunken brawl in La Jolla camp near Placencia last night, four Mexicans were in the county jail today charged with investigation of assault with a deadly weapon.

Deputy Sheriff Merle Dean and G. F. McKelvey were called to the camp last night by Officers Horacio Lacy and Gus Barnes of Placencia. Esteban Buelna, 28, Francisco Urtia, 28 and Fidencio Luna, 24, were booked at the jail at 9:30 p. m. while Micaelo Guillen, 28, eluded officers until this morning, when he was arrested.

Luna told officers he saw the other men and ran to escape being out with a knife. He threw rocks at them and inflicted a severe gash in the cheek of Buelna and injured the hand of Urtia. It was reported.

It is expected that charges will be reduced to disturbing the peace when the men are brought before Judge Halsey L. Spence of Fullerton tomorrow.

CALIFORNIANS YWCA GARDEN EAT MORE MEAT THAN AVERAGE

Nearly seventeen billion pounds of meats are consumed by the people of the United States annually, it was declared by L. O. Burkholder, of the Cudahy Packing company, in a witty speech delivered before the Santa Ana Lions club yesterday noon, at La Casa Trabuco.

To be exact, said the speaker, the meat consumption annually is 16,803,000,000 pounds, or an average of 140 pounds for every man, woman and child in the nation, an average of 6 ounces per capita per day. In California, he said, the state average meat consumption is higher, reaching 155 pounds per capita.

Of the total meat consumed, he said that pork comprises 53 per cent; beef, 38 per cent; lamb, 4.9 per cent, and veal, 4.1 per cent.

Cattle were not indigenous to America, Burkholder said, and were brought in by settlers on the early ships, as were also pigs which originally came from China. The high cost of t-bone steaks and rib roasts was explained by the fact that cattle dressed to about 54 per cent of live weight, t-bones comprise only three per cent of the remainder and ribs six per cent, leaving 91 per cent of cheaper cuts for the more thrifty housewives, and making it necessary for the choice nine per cent to help bear the cost burden of the remaining 91 per cent.

Burkholder was introduced by Floyd Howard, chairman of the day. President Carson Smith announced the club membership is now sixty-nine, and introduced the newest member, Dr. Kenneth Coulson, sponsored by Joe Peterson. Dr. Coulson, together with Chester Horton and Charley Adams, other new members, were inducted into the club by Past President Homer Chaney.

Dale Deckert will be chairman

Tickets for the long anticipated garden tour to be conducted by the Santa Ana Y. W. C. A. tomorrow through the most attractive gardens in the city, can be obtained at the Y. W. C. A. or at any of the gardens to be visited in the morning or afternoon, it was announced today by Miss Mabel McFadden, general chairman of the garden tour.

The unique event is expected to attract wide interest when it is staged tomorrow. A nominal sum is being asked for the tickets that will admit persons to any or all of the beauty spots of the city between the hours of 10 o'clock and noon tomorrow, and between 2 and 5 p. m. tomorrow.

All proceeds will be applied to the Y. W. C. A. fund for carrying out the program of summer camping, an annual event.

Special flags will mark the entrance to the gardens feature on the tour, all of which are easily accessible and which were listed in The Register Wednesday night.

Each garden has been selected for some outstanding feature of interest, so that the entire tour will give a comprehensive idea of just what may be accomplished to produce beauty of floral growth.

SET JUNE 18 FOR SELECTION OF CITRUS HEAD

REDLANDS, Cal., April 20.—Bruce McDaniel, secretary and legal counsel of the national stabilization committee on oranges and advisory counsel of the California-Arizona control committee, announced today that the national orange committee has been directed to meet in Washington on June 18. McDaniel is the representative of the Mutual Orange Distributors on the national committee.

"The national committee on oranges and, also, grapefruit were to have met on August 10," he advises. "At request of Florida the date has been set ahead to June 18. This means that a national coordinator will be selected on that date and that a comprehensive national stabilization plan covering California, Arizona, Florida, Texas and Puerto Rico, probably will be put into effect. Action on selection of a coordinator was blocked by Florida at the meeting in Washington in January and no affirmative steps were taken then relating to national promotion. It is believed that the June meeting will result in definite and constructive steps which should have a direct and beneficial effect on the entire citrus industry."

Results under the California-Arizona agreement will be augmented if the national volume of orange and grapefruit is adjusted to meet normal demand. Approximately 99.7 per cent of the entire national volume is subject to control by the national committees. The national agreement gives authority to the national committees to determine the total volume of oranges and grapefruit grown in the above mentioned states and Puerto Rico to be moved in the current of interstate and foreign commerce in continental United States and Canada, and the allotment which each state can move under such national volume. In event the national committees fail to determine the formula by which such allotments are to be made, the national coordinator has the responsibility of determining that formula."

INDUSTRY REVIVAL LOOMS; FORMER "GHOST FACTORY" NOW EMPLOYS 38 WORKERS

By WAYNE GOBLE

Orange county seems headed for an industrial renaissance, with new jobs being opened up to provide employment as desired and urged by President Roosevelt. When the time arrives that all workers can be employed in private industry, then taxpayers will be relieved of the relief burden and the late depression will be definitely at an end.

One of the depression-beaters in Santa Ana is the plant of the Santa Ana Woolen Mills on East Washington avenue, at the Southern Pacific tracks, which is now providing jobs for 38 residents of the city.

It was one of our "ghost factories." The plant was quiet. No one but a watchman could be seen about the premises. Thousands of us have driven by the fine large building and wondered what was the matter, industrially, with Santa Ana. Two or three times activity was renewed from 1919 to 1930, but each time the plant returned to stillness and inactivity. The last operators closed up shop early in 1930, and for three years this 150,000 plant knew only the memories of former activity, such as the making of thousands of army blankets during the war when the mill was being operated by P. A. Robinson and associates, who originally constructed it.

Aided Prosperity
There was a time when the woolen mills payroll provided many jobs and helped greatly in the prosperity of the community. The 1930 shutdown only added to unemployment, the stagnation of business, and the increased relief burden which taxpayers have had to bear during the depression.

After its checkered career — more checkered than any blanket or piece of goods the plant had ever turned out—the woolen mills lay idle, waiting for a man who knew woolen manufacturing, who knew business, and who would operate the plant for usefulness to society and the community, and not for promotional purposes.

He finally came in the person of Mr. George Matzen, former owner of the Seattle Cloak and Suit House, also of the big Matzen Woolen Mills at Kirkland, Washington, and for several years vice president of the Seattle Commercial club.

Matzen knew wool. He knew the manufacturing business. He knew the markets and the demand. He had some capital of his own and more all lined up to go into the plant. He had been making woolens and manufacturing suit materials ever since the days of bustles and picture hats.

Matzen had known of the Santa Ana Woolen Mills since 1919 and upon several occasions in the intervening period, made preliminary investigations looking to taking over the plant, but always something had intervened, and nothing came of it until early last year, when he had the capital all arranged and plans completed for taking over the local plant.

Faced Difficulties
Then came the well remembered "bank holiday" which prevented the capital from coming forth for investment. Then followed the earthquake, which scared it away entirely. But Matzen is a resourceful man (he ought to be, after all the vicissitudes he had gone through) so he went right ahead "on his own," and took over the woolen mills plant slightly more than one year ago, on April 1, 1933.

Some of the machinery was replaced, a small crew was hired, and the plant switched from making blankets to making 100 per cent woolen suitings. This material was sold to suit manufacturers in Los Angeles and San Francisco, a reputation was established, and from that small beginning, in the midst of depression, the business has steadily grown until today the woolen mills provides jobs for 38 people.

Since each factor worker, on the average, supports or helps to provide indirect employment for six additional persons, it can easily be figured that the Santa Ana Woolen Mills is now providing a living for approximately 265 residents of Santa Ana.

The factory turns out some 8000 yards of suiting per month, and at 3-1/2 yards to the suit, folks, we submit that Santa Ana is helping thousands of men to "dress well and succeed," besides furnishing new and much needed employment locally.

Factory Busy
Instead of an idle watchman as of yore, there is the busy hum of machinery out on East Washington, but it isn't loud enough to disturb the neighbors. Some of the

There are the carding machines, the spinning machines, and the looms, besides a lot of others whose names I couldn't remember. My five-minute trip through the plant was a revelation, and I couldn't help but think what a wonderful thing it is to a community, especially at such a time as this, to create new jobs and help people to be self supporting.

Instead of depending upon the county, the state, or the government for sustenance.

Mr. Matzen expressed himself as very grateful for valuable assistance rendered him during the past year by A. J. Crookshank, George Raymer and others, in helping to get the plant in successful operation. He cannot agree with those few short-sighted individuals who have derided industries in a community, for it is one of his ambitions to build up the largest payroll in Santa Ana. As a layman it appears to me he has made mighty good progress in one year's time toward that goal!

Orange county needs an industrial revival, which will put hundreds of men and women to work and take them off the county relief rolls. Several splendid industries are doing this of which the woolen mills is one. We also have many permanent, stable industrial plants which have kept their personnel all through the depression and have proved themselves wonderful community stabilizers.

We must support the industries we already have, and then give every possible encouragement to competent men and firms to come in and put the rest of our "ghost factories" to work.

If I wore a hat, I'd certainly take it off to this man Matzen who came in and started a new industry in the midst of depression, against all manner of difficulties, and has been able, in one year's time, to create 38 new jobs without depending on Santa Ana trade, and with even more ambitious plans for the future.

A few more capable manufacturers in Santa Ana could put all of our idle factory buildings into useful and community-building production.

(P. S. If you should call on Mr. Matzen, ask him to show you pictures of the "latest models" in suits and petticoats he used to manufacture for the fashionable ladies of Seattle along about 1905!)

LIQUOR HABIT IS INCREASING AMONG PUPILS

LOS ANGELES, April 20.—Declaring that liquor stores in school districts are fitted up to attract students, and often attract them during class hours, George W. McDill, president of the Los Angeles board of education, yesterday told the fourth annual Women's Civic Conference at the University of Southern California, that "daily reports indicate an increase in the liquor habit among children of all ages, particularly among high-school pupils."

McDill discussed the topic of "What Has Happened to Minors Since Repeal?" as a part of the round-table discussion on the general subject of "Liquor Control."

"Not only have we found high-school pupils indulging in intoxicating liquors," McDill said, "but some principal and teachers have reported that elementary students are coming under the influence of the habit. Apparently the liquor dealers consider school localities as particularly good fields for business." McDill also stressed the point that the bringing back of the alcoholic traffic has aggravated the problem of the distribution of obscene literature to children.

"As for the claim that we don't have the old-time saloon," McDill continued, "as far as I have been able to observe there is not much difference so far as results are concerned. Instead of the 300 saloons of the old days, we now have thousands of drinking places."

Regarding the activities of the state board of equalization, California liquor regulatory agency, McDill said, "I am afraid the board is more interested in income than in regulation."

"With the constant shifting of responsibility between police departments and the board of equalization, we are not getting much done in the way of regulation at all," the speaker said. He recommended that control be left in the hands of local authorities and suggested that old restrictions on saloons and liquor be re-enacted.

County C. of C. to Hear Head of L. A. Police Department

"Protection of the Citrus Industry in Orange County" will be the subject for discussion at a regular monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county next Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock in the Yorba Linda Woman's clubhouse. It was announced today by George A. Raymer, Santa Ana, secretary.

The speaker of the evening will be James E. Davis, chief of police of the city of Los Angeles.

CHILDREN EXAMINED

GARDEN GROVE, April 20.—Fourteen children of pre-school age were examined at the summer roundup held in the Washington school Tuesday. The next baby clinic will be held on June 3 at the Washington school.

PLAN CLUB PARTY
GARDEN GROVE, April 20.—The regular monthly card party sponsored by the social section of the Woman's Civic club will be held in the clubhouse next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. W. H. Stennett and Mrs. John Farnsworth as co-hostesses. Prizes will be awarded in bridge and refreshments will be served.

CITY SCHOOLS BROADCAST ON KREG TONIGHT

The second broadcast in a series now being presented under the auspices of the City Teachers League of Santa Ana for the Santa Ana city schools and scheduled at 8 p. m. each Friday will be heard at that time tonight from KREG featuring a demonstration of the music department and an edifying talk by Thomas Glenn, head of the English department, Santa Ana Junior college.

In planning the series of broadcasts, the city schools officials, headed by Mrs. H. Kueneman, arranged for them with the idea of demonstrating methods and subjects taught in the schools, rather than a series of "talent" programs. It is believed that if the broadcasts are informative that parents of school children will find considerable interest in them.

From week to week, until the end of the present school term, various subjects and methods of instruction will be presented. Tonight's broadcast will have the assistance of 20 girls from Jefferson school.

ROBERT SPEED ON KREG THIS EVENING

On the Adult Education program on KREG this evening at 8:30, Robert Speed, instructor in creative writing, and his pupils, Jud Sutherland, will continue to read and analyze letters and postcards received in response to their suggestion that listeners send in ideas from which they would like to hear stories constructed. All the resulting communications could not be taken up last Friday.

Many old-timers in this region were interested on learning last week that a request had come in for stories about Gospel Swamp, a ghost town of Orange county well known in early days. This evening "Bob and Jud" will discuss this communication further and tell something of pioneer times in Gospel Swamp. They will then reveal the decision of Mr. Speed's Monday evening night high school class in writing as to which communication received should be considered first in constructing the next story to be broadcast from KREG. Because of the difficulty of choosing among the many good suggestions offered Bob and Jud decided to leave it to the vote of the class, the members of which have been studying story subjects and story writing and selling. The class gave this most careful consideration last Monday evening at the meeting in Frances Willard junior high school and made both a first choice and a second in light of story interest and story possibilities.

NEWSMAKERS BACK ON KREG TONIGHT

Archibald Otto, who bankers for the job of his late father, Emperor of Austria-Hungary; Will Claude Field, motion picture actor; Sir Arthur S. Edington, regarded by many scientists as the world's greatest astronomer; and Captain Abram Kean, commodore of the Newfoundland sealing fleet who crashed headlines by killing his millionth seal last week will be included in tonight's broadcast of "People Who Make News" on KREG at 7:30.

This feature is scheduled each Friday at this time and discusses and describes prominent personalities who are considered "news."

"SEA SECRETS" REVEALED ON KREG PROGRAM

The topic of tonight's broadcast of "Secrets of the Sea" is "Farmers Who Cultivate and Raise Crops Under the Sea," on KREG at 8:15.

This series of programs, heard each Friday at the above time and each Tuesday at noon on the local station, is unique in the subjects discussed and in the number of little-known and amazing facts disclosed about sea water and its contents, both physical and chemical.

L. Dascombe, who conducts the broadcast, said that it was not generally known that one of the best paying crops harvested in the ocean was sponges. He will tell how these and other ocean crops are fertilized, cultivated and harvested.

EVENING STAR POET FEATURES HAWAII

Again making a selection from poems by Don Blanding, "The Poet of the Evening Star" will offer KREG listeners a pleasing word-picture trip to Hawaii tonight at 8:15.

Among the poems to be included are "Baby Street," "Sea Butterflies," "Kona Storm," "Hula Dancers" and others. The "Poet of the Evening Star" is scheduled each Friday at the above time on the local station and reads poems by request.

NEW DEAL HIT BY REPUBLICAN IN FORUM TALK

In an address at the forum held under the auspices of Fullerton District Junior college and High school.

"The little man is doomed because big business had almost finished him and now big business is being backed by the government," Hale declared. "The minds of 80 percent of the people are upset and unless there is some change in present conditions there will be a revolution."

Hale said he believed that the Roosevelt administration is backing communism in the United States and that the recognition of Russia by the United States was proof of the fact. He also declared that Ambassador Bullitt is a Communist.

The destruction of food by the government was criticized by the speaker, who said that "we are flying in the face of providence by destroying food and not preparing for the lean years. Forty million people are undernourished today in United States and yet we destroy food."

New Chief Of Police Named At Huntington Beach

GELZER GIVEN JOB AS KELLER GETS OLD POST

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 20.—L. H. (Vern) Keller, chief of police of Huntington Beach for several years, was reduced to the rank of motor cop yesterday by the police committee of the city council, and George Gelzer, for the past six years a member of the force, was promoted to be chief. Keller was motorcycle officer before being made chief.

The police committee is composed of Mayor T. B. Talbert, Anthony Trott, newly elected member of the council, and John H. Marion, holdover member of the council and ranking member in point of service. The act of the committee will be reported to the council at its meeting May 9 for confirmation. The police committee of three is a majority of the council.

Such other changes as may be made by the incoming council will probably be made and announced at the May meeting, it is said. In filling his application for chief of the police department, Gelzer, who is a close personal friend of Keller, stated that his application was to be considered only in case the council had fully decided to make a change in the office.

Harry Overmeyer, incumbent, was the only applicant for city engineer, and Ray Overacker, city attorney, was the only applicant for that position. Warner; buildings, Marion, Warner and Channess; public utilities and sewer, Warner, Trott and Channess; music and promotion, Talbert, Channess, Warner; finances, Warner and Marion; police and fire departments, Talbert, Trott and Marion; streets and parks, Trott and Channess.

Oil Test Is Slated For Derby Ranch

COSTA MESA, April 20.—A standard size oil derrick has been erected on the Derby ranch, three miles north of the Nuoli well now drilling on the Banning estate. According to the lease requirements actual drilling will be under way within a few days. The Harding company is at present drilling below the 500-foot level 320 feet south of the south line of the Derby ranch.

The Nuoli company is drilling below the 600-foot level again following a bad fishing job which held them up for several weeks. They are going ahead in a six-inch hole, with the water string casing set just below the 5000-foot depth.

The Wilshire Oil company reported watching the operations at the Nuoli project. The company owns property east of the Nuoli well.

Representatives of the Costa Mesa Oil company, which has a derrick and a hole in good condition at approximately 5200 feet at the intersection of Nineteenth and Placentia streets, were on the property yesterday and said that they are contemplating continuing work here again. This hole is about midway along the line of activity.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Pablito, a handsome youth, becomes a fugitive when he flees from Key West to Havana with Beau and Lottie, two thieves. Pablito has been accused of a murder he did not commit. Maria Treadway who could prove him innocent fears scandal and remains silent.

Pablito is in love with Estelle Field, daughter of rich Jim Field, in Havana. He becomes celebrated as a boxer and he and Beau open a gymnasium.

Three years pass and Pablito sees Estelle again. They meet secretly until her father takes her away on a yacht cruise. Pablito, believing Estelle faithless, leaves Cuba. Months later, in France, he reads of her engagement to Alvin Haviland. He decides to return to Cuba.

Field loses his fortune in a financial crash. He and Estelle, too, decide to go to Havana.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XL
Jim Field went on, speaking slowly. "I've been feeling the cold here and I thought I'd come down here and pick me up."

What he was thinking was, "At least I have the Havana house. I can sell it and with Estelle's income—"

His vague reverie pictured the two of them managing on a reduced income, trying to shave expenses. The big place in Havana would be too large for them to keep anyhow. It had always taken a horde of servants to run it. Now they would have to get along with only a cook and a maid. "There would be no others—no maid for Estelle or valet for himself."

He gave Estelle's hand—grown limp in his clasp—a hard squeeze and again moved toward the table. She watched him down another stiff drink with a splutter and a gulp. "Something was wrong," she knew. One of the few vices Jim Field had never acquired was overdrinking. Of course, she concluded wearily, with a blunt, matter-of-fact frankness that contrasted unpleasantly with her earlier moment of sympathy, it must be some woman. He had usually had his way with women but in a long lifetime of pursuit there was sure to be one desired one who would evade, perhaps with a cruel and mocking laugh, but she managed to hope. "I'll make you feel much better," she said gently. Field thought of Estelle as she had been a few years earlier. She had always spoken gently then. Again his eyes stung.

"Well," he answered, "we'll have a try at it."

His attempt at jauntiness was not convincing. She felt herself shivering and fought against it. She did not want to feel again the old pain that always followed whenever she gave way to real feeling, hoping or caring—all those pitiable, beautiful and fragile emotions that go with youth.

A soft-footed servant announced dinner from the broad doorway. Jim Field got to his feet and, passing the servant, saw in the man's eyes that he had seen the evening's newspapers and was wondering about his wages.

Pablito was glad to find Lottie and Beau where he had left them. And with Lottie's arms clinging about his neck and her tear-wet face raised to his he felt a faint glow of warmth. Lottie had always cared and he was grateful. No one else had always cared.

"Oh, my God, it's good to see you, Pablito!" she whispered unsteadily. "We thought sometimes you were never coming back! Where was you, any way?"

She didn't wait for him to answer. "Beau and me have kept the place going," she went on quickly. "It ain't so popular as it was but if you start fighting again—"

"I'm not going to."

"Say, you don't need to! Beau and me cleaned up good on a strip of land we bought. And you have enough anyhow. Say, Pablito, you haven't been sick, have you? You are not lookin' so terrible good."

"I never was so terrible good, Lottie."

"Oh, Lord—grammar again! Just seein' you makes me excited and here you start in on that grammar. I mean you ain't lookin' any too well. But we'll fix you up! You ain't—married?" she ended with a gulp that told of her fright.

"Heavens, no! Do I look it?" "I didn't know. Beau's married,

"Yes." The girl was a dirty, sneaky little crook and he hadn't no notion of marryin' her—but she managed to say "yes" because she was afraid. "You oughtn't hear her bawlin' him out—but then you will! When she gets started on you could hear her to Key West on a clear day, honey."

"I got your room. I moved out mine so they—Beau and her—could have the other side of the house. I didn't want to hear 'em fightin' all the time! But I'll move to the next one if you'd rather. I wasn't around—in your room."

She ended with a hard flush but her eyes, lifted to his, were brave in their offer. Lottie had not changed Pablito saw miserably.

"Aren't you—?" that yet, Lottie? he asked bluntly, but gently as he looked down at her.

She shook her head, set her teeth on her lower lip and her eyes brimmed. "I never will be," she assured him in a high shrill voice that trembled a little. "I even took to sayin' my prayers that you'd come back. I never done that before. Well, it worked. I'm your doormat with 'Welcome' wrote a foot high. Say, if you knew how I felt you'd pity the blind. I ain't got but one thought of heaven and that's you, Oh, Pablito!"

"Never mind!" he broke in a little abruptly. Then he smiled down at her, as convincingly as he could. Hands on her shoulders, he shook her gently and then looked around the big, bare room that had given him the feeling of returning home.

He found little change in the surroundings and this added to his feeling of home-coming. In the stretch of ground at the rear of the building the heap of empty tin cans had grown higher—their gawdy pictures of tomatoes, pears, peaches and apricots dimmed by the hard rains. The grocer had the new son who crawled among the barrels and the tin boxes, wearing little more than he had worn at his arrival, and the grocer's oldest daughter was to marry the young man who had sung beneath her window before Pablito left. Lottie's hair had become an autumn brown—an improvement over the flaming auburn, he thought.

On the roof, looking down upon La Senora Parra who stood on a lower roof hanging out a washing, Pablito enjoyed a brief interval of peace. Above him was the blue sky on earth. Below someone was singing a love song of old Spain. The singer had a good voice—clear and sweet-toned. Pablito looked across a stretch of vivid green dotted with tall palms and saw a hibiscus hedge, defiantly scarlet. Down the road an ox car came slowly toward him. It was heavily laden with sugar cane. On the morrow at some corner shop where corrugated iron blinds are rolled high by day, some little daughters of Havana would, no doubt, buy a stick of the cane to nibble as they skipped homeward.

The morning would see him strolling Obispo and O'Reilly, walking through the park and stopping at the Cosmopolita for lunch, or going to La Union. He would be eating the dust of the street on his food and knowing the life of the street as he ate in a wildly lurching taxicab down to the docks and along the wall guarded water front where the glare from the narrow bay caused blue eyes, unshielded by dark pigments, to squint and lower lids for protection.

He would ride through the smart Vedada where trimly dressed nurse maids may be seen accompanying elaborately clothed little children; on out to Cerr where life is lived almost entirely in the open; and then on to the Vigora where lived his mother—his mother whom he had never seen.

He would order the driver to go slowly along la calle San Ana, and at a certain door he would look long. For a moment Pablito's bitterness came back to him. Then again the wonder of the picturesque land swept over him. Cuba was home to him; it was gorgeous and wonderful.

A moment more and this mood died away—to know no

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON

By Paul Mallon

The White House had its fingers crossed when it announced that it would take no part in the Democratic congressional primaries.

What it meant was—openly. Louis Howe already has been designated privately to handle the primaries for the administration. He will be unable to take his scheduled vacation now for that reason.

Also, Mr. Farley's right hand man, Emil Hurja, has departed at last from the PWA (much to the relief of Interior Secretary Ickes), and is now installed in the Democratic national committee, although no announcement of the switch has yet been made.

Hurja specialized in the congressional end of the 1932 election for Mr. Farley. He knows every vote in every congressional district since the Civil war.

HELP

The president himself is not as shy on the subject as the announcements indicate. What happened at the White House during the recent visit of Texas boosters shows that.

Among the callers were Senator Tom Connally and his primary opponent, Representative Joe Bailey. One of the leading issues between them is their respective loyalty to the new deal. Bailey has strongly questioned Connally's record in that respect.

In front of a whole crowd from Texas, President Roosevelt reached out and shook Connally's hand.

warmly. The president even threw an arm over Connally's shoulder. When it came Bailey's turn to shake hands, the witness observed that the same enthusiasm was lacking.

The Texans raised their eyebrows and looked at each other. Soon that story will be all over Texas, and yet no one ever will be able to accuse the White House of mixing in the Texas primary.

SIGNIFICANCE

There is more than that behind the Connally story. The truth seems to be that Mr. Connally boosted his stock 100 per cent at the White House when he voted to sustain the president's veto on veterans' allowances. The president feels very kindly toward those who stick by him.

Mr. Connally is a veterans' man and always has been one. He is a Spanish-American war veteran, himself. His conversion was an outstanding event.

The way he was treated was full notice to all Democratic congressmen that the White House has a record of the veterans' veto vote, and while the president is officially taking no part in the primaries, he can and will find ways to help his friends.

ALIBI

The Connally incident was so noticeable that Joe Bailey is supposed to have gone to the president and said he would withdraw if the administration was supporting Connally. He announced later he was not withdrawing, so he must have been assured that the White House is not supporting anyone.

However, Mr. Roosevelt has been in politics too long not to have realized the implications which would be drawn from his demeanor.

WISDOM

Appropos of the alternating pressure now being exerted on the president by conservatives and liberals, a high official of the White House tells this old fable.

A man was walking along a road with his son and a donkey when he heard spectators comment on how foolish he was to feed a donkey and then not ride it. So he got on to ride.

Further on, he heard folk about how selfish he was to ride and let his son walk. So he let the son get on.

A few miles further, people reported him to the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and both he and his son were required to dismount and lead the donkey again.

The sequel to that one is the one Kin Hubbard always told about the newspaper publisher who soon went to the booby hatch when he tried to run a newspaper to please everyone.

QUIETERS

Mr. Roosevelt apparently has decided to keep quiet about current legislation before congress. He has declined lately to discuss silver, the stock market bill, the tax bill, and proposed securities changes.

The idea seems to be that his new tactics will quiet the popular suspicion that he is handling congress as an organ grinder handles his performers on the end of a string.

NOTES

Mr. Roosevelt is certainly feeling himself again. At his last two press conferences, his pleasant sarcasm was cracked.

Vice President Garner's unreported speech to the visiting Texas boosters was a whiz. Among other things, he said he thanked his stars that he was not nominated for the presidency at Chicago. Also, that if the new deal was going to heaven or hades, he intended to go along.

Mr. Roosevelt gave Senator Wagner a strong joshing about the labor board bill when they met a few days ago, saying in effect, "Good grief Bob, what happened to you? When I went away, you were getting along all right, but when I got back I find everyone swarming all over you, pulling your hair out." The answer to that is Wagner may introduce a substitute bill shortly.

In the labor department, they will tell you about the Irishman qualifying for citizenship. He was asked what NRA stood for, and what PWA meant, and gave the right answers, but, when asked about RFC, he replied: "Reverend Father Coughlin."

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

RUSSIA

New Yorkers interested in promoting Russian trade are decidedly active behind the scenes.

Negotiations hit an unexpected snag in the Johnson bill forbidding credits to nations defaulting on their debts. Originally that wasn't intended to apply to Russia and the Export-Import Bank appeared to have a clear field. But now—for diplomatic reasons—it's been officially decided to include Russia. The point was to make it less obvious that the bill was aimed directly at France. It's understood here that the state department strongly recommended such camouflage.

The problem of burrowing under this barrier is complicated by the necessity for face-saving on both sides. The Soviet government can't afford to concede officially any payment on Czarist or Kerenky debts or on damages arising out of the revolution. Neither can our government afford to concede openly that these debts are largely uncollectable.

METHODS

So a strictly private organization—with the highly unofficial help of people connected with the Export-Import Bank—is being mobilized to do the hidden spade work. Those interested are optimistic about damage claims by corporations. That's just a question of getting the Russians to pay a deliberately inflated price for the products they buy. The difference above the normal price will be applied to settle the claims. Officially Washington will know nothing whatever about this arrangement—ditto for Moscow.

Will the Russians agree to this surreptitious levy? Experts believe they will in order to foster trade relations. The precedent has already been set. One large American corporation obtained completely satisfactory settlement of its own claims some time ago in precisely this way.

The Kerenky and Czarist bonds present a knottier problem. The Soviet government has already helped (though the bondholders might not agree) by quietly buying in a number of the bonds at default prices in carefully concealed transactions. This will probably continue.

It is possible that a large part of the remainder will be balanced off against Soviet claims arising out of our Siberian expedition during the war.

FRANCE

France evidently didn't believe the Johnson bill meant what it said. The French have nearly exhausted the 100,000,000 franc loan arranged through Dutch sources and need more help. So they recently approached their American banking connections and asked how about it. The said banking connections are taking no chances of incurring Washington wrath and referred the inquiry to the State Department. The answer—as expected—was a firm and vigorous No. The bankers were privately just as pleased to have the government let them out.

Local authorities predict that the straw to break the Doumergue cabinet's back is likely to develop out of the attempt to force a wage cut on the French railway workers. This measure if pressed could easily lead to a general railway strike which would dump the fat in a sizzling fire.

GOLD

Recent figures on gold losses show clearly how the gold bloc is gradually being driven to the wall. In the past year Switzerland's gold holdings have dropped from 2,354,000,000 francs to 1,710,000,000, a loss of 32.3 per cent. In the same period Holland's gold has shrunk from 956,000,000 guilders to 738,000,000—down by 17.7 per cent. Holland has also lost nearly the whole of 70,000,000 guilders in foreign exchange which it owned a year ago.

French holdings of the metal have declined from 30,417,000,000 francs to 24,513,000,000. This is only a loss of 1.3 per cent but at the same time its holdings of foreign exchange have collapsed from four billion francs to only one billion. Exchange experts agree that it can't—and won't—be long now.

DEVALUATION

Strong pressure from grain circles will shortly be added to the committee for the nation's plea for more rapid devaluation. The President is due to be told—from quarters hitherto silent—that wheat and corn prices are in for a damaging drop unless the gold price is raised very shortly to $40 an ounce.

PRESSURE

A number of Stock Exchange firms—not satisfied with the trend toward softening the Fletcher-Rayburn bill—are urging their employees to bigger and better efforts to help kill it. Here are significant extracts from a circular distributed in several houses. The circular is unsigned—perhaps in case it falls into government hands.

"We must not become too optimistic but must redouble our efforts from now on. . . . The time has come when all true, straight-thinking Americans should protest the action of this small group that is attempting to strangle individuality through governmental control of finance and industry.

"This will be accompanied only by 100 per cent cooperation of every employee. . . . It is up to every individual as a patriotic citizen to protest. . . . They should also solicit the assistance of their friends and tradespeople to do likewise.

"Should this bill become a law, it will undoubtedly lead to unemployment, distress and suffering. Very likely it will reverse the trend toward recovery."

Petition forms are attached for the use of "friends and tradespeople."

SIDELIGHTS

New York has more investigators and observers in Washington currently than Washington ever had here—even at the height of the Senate investigation. . . . Europe is more interested in American security markets now than it has been since the first of the year. . . . Technocracy appears to be staging a comeback in the middle west. . . . New York has learned that Howard Scott has picked up a lot of speaking dates out there. Copyright, 1934, McClure Newspaper's Syn.

FLYING AROUND

With Dale Deckert

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Chandler and Charles Jackson left yesterday in Chandler's Stinson Detroiter plane for Hot Springs, Arkansas. They expect to be gone about two weeks.

Eddie Martin, chief pilot for the MacMillan Petroleum company, returned to Santa Ana Wednesday after a two weeks trip with officials of the company.

Bill Chaney, of the Eddie Martin Airport, mechanical department, started overhauling his own Vaco 16 biplane this week and expects to finish the job in about two weeks.

Ralph Warner, who recently purchased a Siemens International from Paul Rogers, made his first solo flight last week after only six hours of instruction from Bill Chaney. He expects to try for his government private license in the near future.

Special charter trips to Boulder Dam are becoming very popular and hardly a week goes by without one or two trips being made out to Las Vegas. The trip by air takes a little less than three hours, including the time taken in flying over the dam where a real bird's eye view of the huge dam can be obtained.

Since the government proposes to develop Newport Harbor, many passengers are taking advantage of special harbor trips which are being arranged at special rates every Sunday.

Arrangements now are being made to again stage exhibition parachute jumps at the Martin Airport which proved to be popular and well attended last year. Announcement will be made in a few days when the jumps will start.

Johnnie Martin, local pilot who flies for the American Airways between El Paso and Los Angeles, expects to leave for St. Louis to get one of the new Curtiss Condor 16-passenger sleeping compartment airplanes which will be used on the El Paso-Los Angeles run. Johnnie has promised local airport officials that he will bring the plane to the local airport as soon as possible for inspection by local people interested in aviation.

Court Notes

Permission to compromise a debt on behalf of the Charles E. Coppock estate at Orange is asked of superior court in a petition filed by the executor, M. A. St. Clair. The petition states that the executor wishes to accept settlement on a $1000 note of C. L. Columbia, secured by a trust deed on two Orange lots, by taking a grant deed for the property.

The First National Bank in Santa Ana today had brought suit in superior court against Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Bullock, to foreclose a mortgage of $2651.36 against property in Santa Ana.

Harry Humphrey, charged with non support of a minor child, has been released without bail by Judge Charles Kuebel and ordered to report back to the court on July 18.

The following have paid speeding fines in local police court: Kenneth Klick, $4 of $5 fine;

James Koller, $4 of $5; Jack Bulger, $5; Cor Jonilms, $5 or $6; Walter Ely, $5 or $10; Norman Barnes, Anaheim, $5; Leo Ax-ford, $5; Norman Maney, $5; George Sommers, $4 of $5, and Rodney Leonard, Orange, $5.

OFFICERS FOR MEN'S CLUB OF CHURCH NAMED

ORANGE, April 20.—W. E. Smiley was elected president, Arthur Spaullock, vice president, and Roy Sands, secretary-treasurer of the newly organized Men's club of the Baptist church, at a joint supper meeting with the women of the church Thursday night in the social hall.

An interesting talk on early church work in Orange was given by Dr. Alonso Pettie, of Burbank, a pastor of the Baptist church 40 years ago. He was introduced by Mrs. Annie Vancorn of Tustin, a member of the local church during Dr. Pettie's pastorate.

It was announced that the next meeting of the club will be held May 17.

Hold Last Rites For Mrs. Murphy

ORANGE, April 20.—Funeral services for Mrs. Eliza Murphy 73, who passed away April 17 at her home, 415 Marietta place, were held Thursday at the Coffey Funeral chapel, with Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. M. L. Pearson, conducting the rites.

FAVORABLE CITRUS OUTLOOK CITED BY EXCHANGE OFFICIAL IN TALK BEFORE ROTARIANS

ORANGE, April 20.—Characterizing the present Valencia orange crop as the finest which has even been on the trees, with no wind or frost damage experienced during the growing season, Dalton C. Field, head of the growers' service department of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, in a Rotary club talk yesterday, declared that with better conditions throughout the nation and a consequent increase in consumers, there is a more favorable outlook for citrus growers of Southern California than for some years.

Growers who demand the right to develop individualism regardless of responsibility to the community must be educated and made to understand this responsibility, Field said. A firm market at the close of the Valencia season and the fact that the Florida crop was out of the way six weeks earlier than usual leaves a good basis on which to open Valencia operations, the speaker declared.

Continued need of co-operative marketing was stressed by Field, who named the development of new markets, the development of a new strata of consumers and the reduction of costs in shipping in order to secure more revenue for the grower, as the individual responsibilities of the grower.

Citrus marketing problems during other depressions were related by Field, who told how leadership in the citrus industry had developed in 1893 when growers were unable to sell crops and as lack of consumers and over expansion of the industry. At this time Field said the trouble was not that America did not want to buy but did not have the opportunity and a sales organization was developed.

Great credit is due the leaders who developed the sales organization plans, Field said. He declared that the first year an advertising program was instituted there was a 50 per cent increase in sales over the year previous and that from the day the advertising program was started to the present day the increase in the consumption of oranges has been 15 times as great as the increase of the population of the country.

The national code, Field declared, is very simple and is an agreement to protect both consumer and producer by controlling marketing. Field named Dr. D. D. Waynick of the association laboratory as one of the founders of the controlling system.

Fred Hobbs was the program chairman and it was announced that at the next meeting each member of the club will have as his guest his own son or daughter of high school age or some high school boy or girl or someone older.

B. D. Stanley and Jack Clayton were named as a committee to aid in selecting a queen for the old time May day parade.

SAYS RUSSIAN RECOGNITION IS PEACE MOVE

Not only has the recognition of Russia been one of the greatest steps President Roosevelt and the United States government have taken to preclude world war, but it has been a step that will "help tone down Russia," according to Richard M. Atkinson, world traveler, and a resident of Russia during the last revolution.

"He talked last night to 115 members and guests of the Orange County Rural Principals and Teachers association following a dinner meeting served by women of the Buena Park Congregational church at the church. R. L. Spauld of Olive, president, was in charge of the meeting, and the "Pieces of Eight" orchestra of Norwalk, with Burton McKenzie as director, provided music for the dinner hour.

"There isn't the slightest chance of United States turning communist; there is a chance of United States turning fascist, and those who are against the Roosevelt program of social justice are drawing the herring of communism across the trail of truth, to throw Americans off the right path," the speaker declared.

"The points against Russia, he said, are the armament program, which the speaker said is in defiance, with Russia taking the attitude, "the world is against us," and which fault will be remedied with recognition of Russia by United States; the poor taste Russia displays in advocating world revolution was a second point he made, and said that Russia is like a child, and with this new made freedom, and is trying to "show the world." The cruelty of the people was a third point, which he explained is a lesson learned from those who formerly ruled the peasants. Other disadvantages are their having stopped religious worship, caused through the oppression of the church during the former regime, but on this point, the speaker declared they will come back to religion and worship. Bureaucratic government, lack of knowledge of cleanliness and uncouth living conditions and other disagreeable phases, he said.

"Roosevelt knows these things; he knows that to help the Russian people meant recognition of their government; he has no intention of establishing communism, but has saved us from it," he said.

The points of development as cited by Atkinson are the zest for living that has entered the masses of the Russians; they are enjoying living for the common good of all, and are willing to suffer to build for their country and future generations.

The speaker who has spent 20 years in the country told us a fine message conditions that led to and during the revolution, through which he passed.

A special guest was H. Olin Tronton, elementary placement department of the California Teachers' association.

FOOLISH FISH
I have never been an ardent disciple of old Izaak Walton, the gent of yore who first popularized the art of fishing. To my mind sitting on a bank waiting for a fish to come along and make a fool of himself by biting a worm on a painful hook was a waste of time.

A bigger waste of time, I thought, was to whip a frail fly rod back and forth with an imitation fly and try to fool a smart fish into believing it was the genuine article.

Came the opening of trout season, however, and a nutty friend of mine decided we'd brave the icy waters of a mountain stream in search of "salmo trideus," "salvelinus fontinalis" and "salmo fairus."

After he had decided for me, I asked him what rare manner of fish we were seeking, and if they were local or species for which he was in search for the aquarium.

PLAIN OLD TROUT

Well, it developed that we were going after trout, plain trout, the "salmo trideus" being rainbow trout, the "salvelinus fontinalis" being brook trout, and the "salmo fairus" being brown trout.

I spoke up with a last-minute argument that I'd rather seek a good game of fish instead of running the risk of catching pneumonia, seeking old "salmo fairus."

But we were off—in the wee small hours of the morning, with self-respecting gentlemen and a few "ladies" in tow.

We arrived safely, contrary to my expectations, and it soon developed we were in the midst of the fishery.

My friend—let's call him Joe—ripped up his rod, told me how to tie up mine, and we were ready to breast the muddy waters of the raging brook.

AH! A PURIST!

He pinned a dry fly to the end of my line. I noticed one of the boys were fishing with wet flies or worms, and I called his attention to the fact.

He snuffed in derision, mumbled something about his being strict, and forthwith dropped his imitation insect upon the water.

I tried to follow suit, but the fly caught in a tree behind me as I whipped the line backward, and I spent anxious moments trying to free the hook from the bare limbs without breaking the gossamer leader.

Finally I got the line untangled and was putting some fly dope on the artificial insect to make it float when I heard a whoop a short distance from me.

There, around a bend, was a kid with a cane pole, and fast to a hook on which an anoleworm was pinned was a monster brown trout.

Interested, I watched him for 15 minutes. In that time he hooked five trout, three of them going over a pound.

Mushing on, I passed the kid and finally caught up with Joe, who with his fine tackle and dry flies hadn't had as much as a rise in an hour and a half.

At the first opportunity I sneaked back, begged the worms from the farmer boy, and soon had something in my creel. And Joe, the dry fly addict? He had nothing at the end of the day.

Moral: Get chummy with the worms.

ROSS-MCLARNIN

About six weeks from now Barney Ross will be a wiser, if not a sadder, young man. He probably will realize the futility of biting off more than he could chew.

The reason will be the Shamus McLarnin, the baby-faced Mick right from the Old Sod, blasted his hopes of becoming champion of the welterweights.

For four or five months now, Sam Plan has been trying to get McLarnin to sign to meet his lightweight champion in defense of his welter crown.

It was reported that Ross's manager had offered the Vancouverite $5,000 cold fish for the crack at the title.

ALL OR NOTHING

Jimmy's manager, the wily Pop Foster, held out for the Statue of Liberty and half the Bronx before Madison Square Garden succeeded in signing the two battlers for a bout for the benefit of the New York Milk Fund, May 28.

Although no terms were announced, if the team of Foster and McLarnin didn't get more than $5,000 guaranteed, we don't know Pop.

According to early dope of the experts, McLarnin, due to his jaw layout since he won the title from Young Corbett III last May, won't be a class with Ross.

They figure six weeks will be too short a time for the Irishman to round into shape after a layoff of a year.

But take a look at the records: Jimmy had only three fights in 1932, one of which he lost to Lou Broillard, and two knockout wins over Benny Leonard and Sammy Fuller. Then there was a long layoff before anyone could get him near a ring.

His next bout was the title affair in May, 1933, with young Corbett, whom he knocked out of there in one round.

Layoffs don't seem to bother McLarnin. He can round into shape faster than anyone else in the ring today. That murderous right hand of his never seems to lose the knack of finding its mark with all its power.

ROSS BUSY, BUT—Ross is to be commended for his enterprise. The lightweight champion has been one of the most active men in the ring since he won his title. Although he has preferred to defend his synthetic honor with his lightie crown.

But we think he's stepping way out of bounds in taking on Shamus. The baby-faced one does on little guys.

He put out Sammy Fuller's lights after eight rounds in 1932 and ended the career of that scrappy little Boston lightweight in short order.

Then, too, McLarnin does on Jewish fighters. Among his victims are Jackie Fields, Kid Kaplan, Sid Terris, Joe Glick, Al Singer, Ruby Goldstein, and Benny Leonard.

Ross will be handicapped by about seven pounds when he faces Jimmy. McLarnin will probably come in at 147, the class weight limit. Against Barney's 140, that weight advantage, coupled with the fact that the Mick is the hardest puncher and one of the best boxers Ross ever faced, will be too much for Barney.

But Shamus will know he has been in a fight!

RELAY MAY DECIDE 'BIG MEET'

STARS. COLTON MEET AT BOWL IN EXHIBITION

Colton's Reds, onetime scourge of the rival American Night league and always a worthy opponent for any night baseball team, invades the Municipal Bowl tonight for an exhibition tussle with Santa Ana's Stars.

Because of the traveling distance, game-time has been set back 15 minutes to 8:15. Colton defeated Santa Ana, 4-3, at Colton last week and played an 11-inning tie with Anaheim, 3-3, which speaks well for the inland organization's skill.

However, several of Santa Ana's regulars were missing from the first game and Manager Bill Cole believes his club will be able to square the series here, especially since the Stars expect to be virtually intact for the first time this year. Ed Daley will be back at first base, and Cole believes Outfielder Tom Denney will be on hand as well. Red Ballard, brilliant midfielder, may not be ready for action until next week, however.

Ira DeBusk and Wilbur Stinchfield are scheduled to share the Santa Ana mound duties. DeBusk starting. "Benny" Wilcox will work most of the game behind the bat. Kemp, a young right-hander from Camaranga, will hurl for Colton, it is understood.

The Colton unit is not as powerful as in the days of 1930 and 1931, when Venn Botts was making history there, but Manager Hubert Finlay still has a good ball club, built around Jack Stone, hard-hitting first baseman who has been moved into the outfield.

A week ago in the "Race With the Legion" program, an Italian driver, D'Amore, piloted the newly constructed midget a time-lap in the sensational time of 17 seconds.

The outboard motor is one which Loretta Turnbull used in establishing some of her speed records in water racing.

When No. 36 is tuned to the necessities of short-track racing, it is expected to displace other winners who have mopped up the short tracks heretofore. Legion officials expect that No. 36 will be tuned to such a point that the inconsistencies of a week ago will be eliminated. If this should happen Bill Betteridge, "Hap" Woodman and other favorite drivers are going to have to learn how to "take it."

Entertainment and special match races are announced by Santa Ana post No. 131 as added program features for the third weekly event at the sixth street enclosure.

Johnny Keim and Pat Warren, who raced to a dead heat in a three-lap match a week ago, are expected to put on the most stirring battle for Orange county fans.

Another week of work has been put on the Bowl track and conditions are better daily. The delay races will not be as long as heretofore. George Kellogg, Legion race committeeman, said.

NEW YORK, April 20.—(UP)—The Boston Red Sox, having broken even in a four-game series with the pennant-winning Senators, open a three-day stand today against the Yankees, the other power in the American league.

If the Sox can do as well against the Yanks as they did against Washington, little doubt should remain as to the import-out role "Bucky" Harris' outfit will play in the 1934 campaign.

Willowick's spring golf championship, held for the past two years by Stan Schulte, Fullerton junior collegian, will be decided tomorrow.

With Schulte not competing this year, the title will rest between Don Kennedy, young Santa Ana Country club player, and Ray Hardin, runner-up for the Long Beach city championship. Hardin is a slight favorite.

The finalists clash over an 18-hole route, starting at 1 o'clock. In the women's day tournament, Mrs. Paul Adams won, low gross and Mrs. Rudy Schaffer captured low net.

Elks' Ball Team Issues Challenge

Anxious to meet ball teams from Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange and other sections of the county, the Santa Ana Elks ball team will meet opponents in the Municipal Bowl or on any other field, it was announced today by Manager Ken Miller.

Miller has collected a fast group of ball players and wishes stiff competition. Among his players are Claude Gregory, Wayne Garlock, Jesse Ojeda, Dave Styling, Don Smith, Tom Lacy, Ray Short and Nell Hall.

Miller may be reached at the county garage, phone 3000, or the Elks club, phone 794.

YANKS WILL WIN DAVIS CUP

BY HENRY M'LEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 20.—Nothing a precedent by hiring a professional coach for the cup team, and that his name will be Vincent Richards.

That the Giants will win the National league pennant again with games to spare.

That the Yankees will win the American league flag, and that they'd have an easier time of it if Babe Ruth was not out there in right field. That the Yankees, however, would be highly unsmart if they didn't keep him there as he is good for 3000 paid admissions every time he's in the lineup.

That Minnesota will win the Big Ten football championship next fall.

That a cock fight furnishes a better more action than any other event.

That marathon races are just about rock bottom in dulley, if I may invent a word.

That the U. S. will have little trouble winning the Walker Cup, but will lose the Wightman Cup.

That professional tennis will fold up and die the minute Bill Tilden quits the game.

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)

NEW YORK, April 20.—(UP)—Back from the swing around the winter golf circuit, Horton Smith, Oak Park Country club professional, who won the Bobby Jones tournament at Augusta, Ga., today recalled some of his experiences and observations during the campaign.

Among them were:

1. Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., was the outstanding professional of the winter season.

2. Bobby Jones impaired his own chance of winning the Masters' tournament by playing host to "the boys" after sundown.

3. Ky Laffoon, Denver; Henry Picard, Charleston, S. C.; Dick Metz, Chicago, and Bryan Nelson, Texarkana, Tex., were best of the newcomers.

4. Competition is getting keener and it's getting harder each year to win tournaments on the winter circuit.

THE TINYMITES

The farmer was a happy soul. Said he, "I'll let my strong voice roll and, if you keep real quiet, you will hear a pretty song. 'The hills and dales appeal to me. They fill me full of harmony. I always like to sing while I am traveling alone.'"

"Oh, fine!" said Dotty with a grin. "Gee, more than likely, we'll join in, unless you sing a song that we have never heard before. 'You've never heard this one,' said the man. 'I'll sing it now, as best I can. You see, I wrote the words myself. Perhaps 'twill make you roar.'"

"I'm off to town," the song began. "And I'm a happy farmer man, because I make my living raising things out in my fields. 'I work the soil the live-long day. To me my work is just like play, 'cause I will get the benefit of what each acre yields.'"

"Well, how was that?" the farmer cried. "I hope it didn't spoil your ride." "Oh, my, no," answered Dotty. "Now we'll sing a song for you."

The Tinymites all joined right in. It pleased the man, and made him grin. He clapped his hands and shouted, "That was great," when they were through.

Just then the wind began to blow, and little Dotty cried out. "Oh, it looks just like a cyclone. I'm scared as I can be."

"The wagon's shaking. Me, oh my! I think we're headed for the sky. I hope I don't fall out of here. Someone hang on to me."

The next thing the Tinymites knew, part of the farmer's wagon flew into the air, and then a giant wind man came in sight.

He cried, "Ah, ha! Some tots I've found. I'm going to blow you 'round and 'round. Just hang on to the wagon and perhaps you'll be all right."

Tustin Teacher Goes To Desert

TUSTIN, April 20.—Mrs. Myrtle Morse, who has been a member of the grammar school faculty for the past eight years, was forced to relinquish her work this week on account of poor health. She has gone to the desert to be with friends until her health will permit the resumption of her work.

Miss Mildred Staples, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Staples, and a graduate of Tustin Union High school before taking her college work, has been employed to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Morse's resignation as first grade teacher.

Municipal League Heads Oppose Charges At Jail

WILL DEMAND COUNTY LOWER BOARD RATES

Advance notice that cities of Orange county will take full advantage of the recent legal opinion given the board of supervisors that cities have been paying too much money for the care of prisoners at the county jail, was served last night when members of the executive committee of the Orange County League of Municipalities agreed to unite in a demand for lower rates.

At the regular meeting of the association next week, it is expected that unanimous agreement will be given to a plan whereby the cities will pay only that portion of the jail bill which has been ruled legal, and refuse to pay the extra fees as in the past.

Considerable discussion concerning the jail question was held at the meeting of the committee in the Green Cat cafe. It was pointed out that league committees have sought to have the board of supervisors rectify the asserted public taxation system but nothing has been done.

The new ruling given the board Tuesday stipulates that the county cannot charge cities within the county for maintaining city prisoners in the county jail, unless such prisoners have been prosecuted under state ordinances, of the city prisoners have been prosecuted under state laws, even though the fines collected go to the city treasurer, the county is obligated to maintain the prisoners without charge to the cities.

The county heretofore has been charging cities at the rate of 40 cents per day for each prisoner. It was decided that Prof. E. A. Cottrell of Stanford university should be the main speaker at the meeting of the league next week in the Orange Woman's clubhouse.

Professor Cottrell is an authority on city and county government and will discuss overlapping expenses of cities and counties, Mayor Paul Witmer and Supervisor William Jerome of Santa Ana were responsible for securing the speaker, since Witmer was appointed chairman of a mayors' committee to study the question of city-county government and the needless expenses of overlapping government.

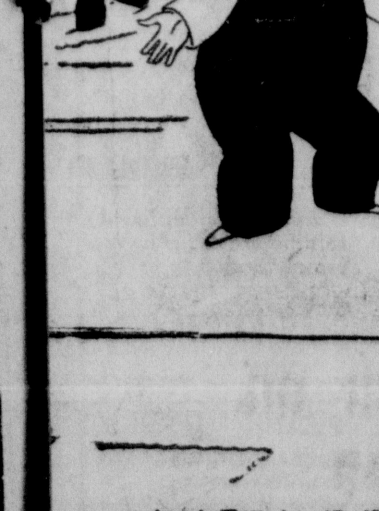

New developments in the State Emergency Relief administration will be explained by Mayor Harold Pomeroy of Southgate, field representative of the California League of Municipalities. Further discussion of the gas tax, methods of voting within the league, and possibly the setting of uniform penalties for drunken driving will be other matters to be considered.

The purpose of the meeting will be to acquaint incoming and outgoing councilmen in the various cities. Special tribute will be paid to the service rendered by cities by the retiring city officials. C. J. Hessel, newly named mayor of Orange, will be host for the evening.

Roosevelt Welcomed Home by Congress and Band

Congress may have overridden President Roosevelt's veto as he left, but there were no hard feelings when members of both Houses paraded to the station with the biggest brass band in town to greet him, as shown here, on his return to Washington from his southern fishing trip. Tanned and smiling, the President (inset) told his welcome: "I learned a lot of lessons from barracudas and sharks—and now I'm a tough guy."

He declared that it is generally agreed that the summer of 1932 was the low point of the depression and that financial institutions, as well as business in general, are definitely on the upgrade.

F. C. Noon, secretary of the federal bank in the area with headquarters in Los Angeles, spoke briefly after FitzPatrick and mentioned several instances of improving business conditions. Milton V. Newcomer, economics professor at the Santa Ana Junior college, was introduced.

STATE ISSUES WARNING TO OIL OPERATORS

"Just another of Mr. Vandegrift's threats to frighten the oil operators into line without risking a court decision. We have been getting them every few weeks for the last several months."

The warning issued yesterday from Los Angeles by Rolland Vandegrift, state director of finance, to Huntington Beach oil operators accused of whipstock drilling into the tideland oil pool, to the effect that they had better "settle up" with the state on a royalty basis, or pay full damages for all oil produced, was thus launched, received by Attorney L. W. Blodgett, of special counsel for the City of Huntington Beach.

"Huntington Beach expects to get a court determination of the issues, regardless of threats," he added briefly. "We expect to make a test in the Milroy Oil company case, as to the right of Mr. Vandegrift or Attorney-General Webb to even bring the injunction suits that have been filed against the operators in this county."

"We shall continue to stand on the issues raised in our demurrer to the state's complaint, namely that the state has no proprietary right in the tideland oil pool; that the state, through its sovereignty, has merely a regulatory right concerned only with the protection of commerce and navigation."

The Milroy demurrer has been ordered submitted to Judge L. N. Turrentine, of San Diego, on briefs, to be filed within the next 30 days.

Vandegrift's Los Angeles statement said that operators of more than 40 wells already have settled with the state on a royalty basis, and that 60 other wells are involved in injunction suits now pending in Orange county courts. The state, he said, also is watching 22 additional wells soon to be brought into production.

"Any operator who does not show due diligence in settling up with the state will be taken into court and must abide by court judgment as to how much he owes the state on oil already taken from state lands," he said. "If the court orders the wells closed, closed they will be, and the state will seek full damages of 100 per cent of the oil produced, and at the highest prevailing prices."

Seek Players For 6 Roles In Tom Show

Valmer Clark, director for "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which is to be staged soon by Santa Ana Community Players, announced a final tryout tonight for men between the ages of 25 and 35 to fill the remaining six parts in a cast of 30. Attractive roles in the post-season melodrama still remain in the characters of St. Clare, George Harris, Lawyer Marks, the Doctor, Mr. Wilson and a waiter. The tests will be made at The Barn, East Fourth and Mabury streets, tonight at 7 o'clock.

Last night's most dramatic moment saw the casting of Margaret Fields as Eva. Miss Fields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Fields of 2408 Valencia street, is a sixth grade student at Hoover school which, through the cooperation and enthusiasm of its principal, Miss Hazel Nell Benus, boasted the largest representation among grammar schools in the children's tryouts. Miss Fields was chosen from a field of four young hopefuls; Lola Marie Harmon, Ruth Evangeline Hawley and Doris Lorraine Faupel.

Rivaling Miss Fields in interest and attention last evening was Anna May Burks, little colored girl, who appeared to try out for "Topsy." Although the part had previously been awarded to Miss Dorothy Drew, Miss Burks was invited to take the stage and gave a promising performance, according to onlookers.

The interpretation of the pathetic Eliza was last night entrusted to Harriet Owens Enderlie, while Ollimae Enlow Matthews was invited to play Marie St. Clare. Others cast were Jeannette Bodman as Emmaline; Wayne Holt as Shelby and E. Best as Haley.

MAYOR WITMER TO TAKE NEW POST MAY 1ST

Mayor Paul Witmer will take over his post as federal land registrar of Southern California about May 1, following receipt this week of his official confirmation by the senate, he indicated today.

Witmer said he had been in conference with federal officials in Los Angeles and had decided that May 1 was a good time to start his new duties. He will have complete charge of the Los Angeles office, which comprises a suite of rooms in the federal building and seven or eight civil service employees.

Although Witmer was non-committal about his possible resignation from the city council, he has indicated that he will seek to hold both jobs, at least until after the city budget is completed at the end of this fiscal year. If federal regulations prevent him from keeping his city post, he will probably resign within the next several weeks.

Considerable discussion has been provoked on the makeup of the city council in the event Witmer resigns. Councilman A. F. LeGaye has indicated that he will resign if Witmer does, which would leave two positions to be filled by A. C. Hasenjaeger, E. G. Warner and William Penn, the remaining members of the council.

Names which have been heard in connection with discussion of possible successors to Witmer are A. H. Allen, rancher and Masonic head; Fred Rowland, rancher; Frank Purinton, former mayor; A. L. Hart, automotive dealer, and C. F. Skirvin.

Picnics and Reunions

All former Illinois residents now in Southern California are invited to the annual spring picnic reunion to be held all day, Saturday, April 28, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles.

Engagement News Told
At Latest Meeting
Of Sigma Tau Psi

Romance seems to be the newest pledge to the ranks of Sigma Tau Psi sorority, for it was introduced at the latest meeting of that group when Miss Alice Hanson entertained in her home, 2468 Riverside drive.

In appearance, the evening was the customary session of the chapter, combining business details with social features. It was only when the group was ready to turn to the social phases of the evening that romance appeared, and members learned that they might offer good wishes to Miss Mary Reed upon her betrothal to Edward Sugden.

The manner in which the engagement was announced, was quite interesting. Miss Hanson as hostess, had arranged that the doors leading into the den from the living room, should remain closed until she was ready to suggest the serving of refreshments. When they were thrown open, they revealed small tables arranged with covers in green and yellow. Sigma Tau Psi colors, and centered with Maypoles whose fluttering ribbons led to each place. They ended at small cards bearing the names of Miss Reed and her fiancé, Mr. Sugden, and the additional information of their chosen wedding date, June 11.

Dominating the small refreshment table was one reserved for a bride bouquet of lilies of the valley, tied with green and yellow gauze. After the excitement attendant upon the announcement had subsided, members enjoyed the salad course followed by a dessert course and coffee, served by the three pledges of the sorority, the Mesdames Jane Hill, Wilma Potter and Betty Seeley.

Miss Reed is the daughter of Mrs. Mabel Reed, 402 South Birch street. Mr. Sugden is the son of Mrs. Alma Sugden, 1345 South Ross street. Sorority sisters of the bride-elect to whom the news was revealed included in addition to the hostess, Miss Hanson, the Mesdames Jean Rowland, Betty Rowland, Jean Peacock, Carol House, Jean House, Louise Lack, Genevieve Glover, Velma Allen of Fullerton, Lucy Holmes, Mary Emil Dickinson, Mesdames Thomas Jentres, C. W. Hoyle, Donald Harwood, Bruce Vegely, Roy Griset, and the pledges, the Mesdames Wilma Potter, Betty Seeley and Jane Hill.

Guests found their places at a lace-covered table centered with sweet peas and tapers and appointed with delicate azure glassware. Santa Ana Recounts Travel Joys for Section

Sharing their afternoon program with a number of guests, Ebelle Second Travel section members presented an interesting program this week in the clubhouse lounge, to succeed the luncheon served at noon by a hostess trio composed of Mesdames George R. Rayburn, P. S. Virgin and Anna Allen.

For the luncheon interval, the hostesses used bright orange nasturtiums as adornment of the tables laid in the section room. Mrs. T. A. Winbiger, section leader, arranged the flowers which were from her garden. Special guests at the luncheon included in addition to Mrs. Susan Rutherford, Mrs. Pearl Livezey and Miss Leonora Tompkins, who later gave the program, Mrs. Charles W. Davis, president, and Mrs. W. Maxwell Burke, curator of Ebelle society; Mrs. John Anderson, Miss Simpson of Long Beach, Miss Martha Whitson, Mrs. Charles W. Pruitt, Miss Sedalia Cubbison and Miss Marilyn Hamill.

The program opened with songs by Mrs. Livezey, who chose two appropriate numbers, "Blossom Time" by Salter, and "Thank God for a Garden," by Teresa del Rio. Miss Tompkins was her accompanist. Both Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Burke gave brief talks, and then Mrs. Rutherford was introduced. With her latest voyage to the Orient, Africa and South America as her theme, she recounted features of the long journey, telling personal experiences both on shipboard and in the various ports, that were extremely entertaining.

Amplifying her talk, were several reels of motion pictures which she had taken. Of special interest were the busy street scenes in Oriental cities, views of the famous temple at Nikko, and the peak of Fuji, taken from a distance of several miles. The tablelands at Capetown were shown, and street scenes in South Africa and others in Ceylon and in South American ports. Native architecture, fruit loading, and other varied phases of native life were within the scope of Mrs. Rutherford's interest, and provided an entertaining afternoon for Second Travelers.

Club Hostess Observes Birthday Anniversary

Native Daughters' Card club members shared an enjoyable session Tuesday night when the hostess, Mrs. W. H. Mize, made the occasion a celebration of her birthday anniversary. Her home on West Seventeenth street was abloom with snapdragons, roses, sweet peas and other flowers which had been sent in by friends. Prizes for the evening's bridge games went to Mrs. Walter Hinkley and Mrs. Ernest Winbiger, scoring first and second high, and Mrs. Stella Finley, low. Midnight supper including a candle-decked birthday cake was served at tables centered with roses. Mrs. Mize received many gifts from her club associates.

Those present were Mesdames W. A. West, Raymond Crum, Walter Hinkley, Herbert Bray, Paul Etzold, Ernest Winbiger, Val Clark, F. W. Howard, Lea Wallace, J. A. Gant, Charles Campbell, Edward Kotlar, L. A. Leabo, E. U. Dickinson, George Seba, Gordon Evanson, Ethel Boone, Mildred Gray, Stella Finley, Alberta Wallace, Stella Stiffler, Rose Ford, Katherine Burns, and the hostess, Mrs. Mize.

Church Societies

Class Dinner

Shared by a group of 80 members and their families, a dinner meeting of First Methodist Two-In-One class was held Tuesday night in the church.

All attending contributed dishes to the dinner. On the committee in charge were Dr. and Mrs. John Bower, Mr. and Mrs. Finn, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ulrich and Mrs. Nora Schlett. Dr. Bower, class president, conducted a business meeting.

Mrs. Bower was chairman of a program opened by Miss Harriet Ulrich, playing piano numbers, "On the Meadow" and "The Tu-

"The Dancing Lesson," "Clubwoman's Child" and "Favored Kisses." Miss Phyllis Wetherell sang a solo, "Tommy," accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Harry G. Wetherell.

Elmer Blake gave short humorous readings; Marjorie Randall gave readings, "Two Ears of June Cocking played 'The Boat' and 'The Mill'; John Stout, violinist and Olive Schweitzer, pianist, played "Obertass," "Ave Maria" and "The Old Refrain," after which Olive played a piano solo, "Capriccio."

Class Dinner

First Christian Homebuilders had a picnic dinner and entertainment Tuesday evening in the educational building, which had been decorated to represent an old-time picnic ground. Bunting-decked booths had been erected for sandwiches and pink lemonade.

Fifty-five members and their families took part in the picnic supper and were seated on the floor for this merry interval. Thomas Williams as the mayor, introduced Walter Kennedy, who gave an address of welcome. Charles Tibbitts was speaker of the evening. The Hickley band, directed by D. Tibbals, gave selections.

On the host committee were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Steen and Mr. and Mrs. Monson.

Women's Council

Mrs. C. F. Peck's birthday anniversary was celebrated Wednesday at the noon luncheon of an all day session of Orange Avenue

Christian Women's Council held in the church bungalow. Roses and sweet peas served as decorations. A pink and white cake had been provided by Mrs. Charles Hoff.

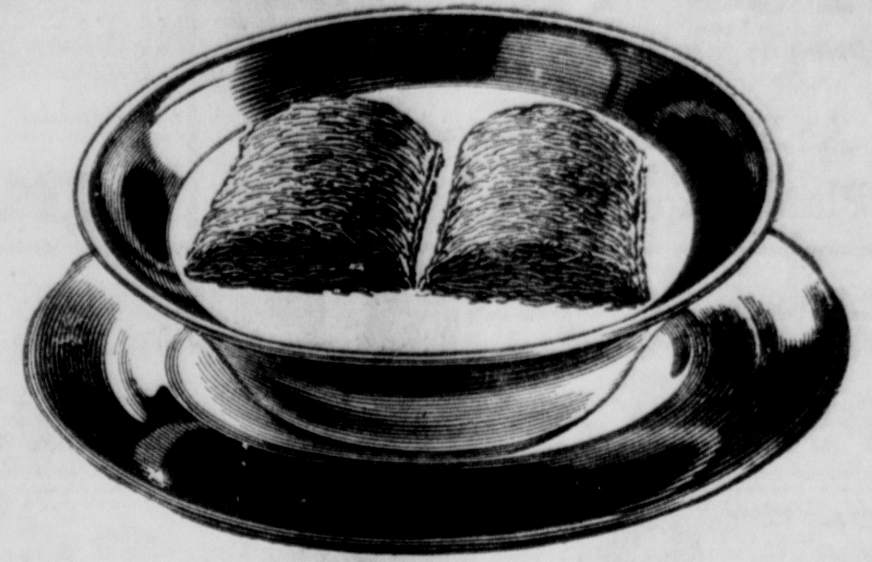

Those present for the event and the Bible study which followed were Mesdames Frank Cannon, Charles Hoff, Thomas Vance, Albert W. Walker, Etta Piscole, Irene Mitchell, J. E. Smith, Charles Aubrey, C. N. Turner, Mary McGinnis, Joe Grimeshaw, James Wylie, Mabel Sherwood, C. F. Peck, J. J. Kelly, George Morgan, H. A. Gerrard, Etta Cozad and Miss M. Armstrong.

Steak Bake

First Christian Senior Endeavor society enjoyed a hay ride to Jack Fisher park recently, holding a steak bake as the climax of a leisurely trip through the heart of Santa Ana and out North Main street to the park.

Those attending were Carl Rayha, driver of the wagon drawn by two white mules, "Sawdust" and "Shavings"; and the Mesdames Marguerite Haskell, Muriel Greene, Agnes Brady, Corinne Hamilton, Nomi Hawkins, Karla Nielsen, Kristine Nielsen, Dempsey Pride, Lola Pride, Adele Pyatt, Ruth Williams, Frances Miller, Messrs. Bill Greene, George Stickler, Ed Wickensheim, Gordon Almas, Al Manning, Harold Willis, Carl Allison, Wesley Morgan, Norman Haskell and a group of chaperones, Mrs. Hagthorn, Mrs. Greene and Frank Pierce.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, April 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Allen Robertson, of Gardena were week end guests of Mrs. Robertson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Robertson.

Mrs. Charles Applebury and daughters, Betty and Pauline Applebury, motored to Whittier Saturday, spending the day with Mrs. Applebury's niece, Mrs. Carl Noll and family.

Here is a tip for those who prepare a quick meal at home or while picnicking, hiking or motoring: The keenest appetites find deep satisfaction in S&W Oven Baked beans (brick oven baked for hours and hours until they are firm, tender and browned to a nicety) and S&W Brown Bread (one hundred percent whole wheat with raisins, made according to an old fashioned New England recipe). Add to these the mellow'd goodness of a steaming cup of S&W Coffee and your mealtime becomes an occasion.

Summing it all up, S&W's hearty meal in three tins is simple, quick, satisfying and moderate in cost.

Each package has a wax wrapping, inside and outside, to keep out moisture and keep in the delicious true wheat flavor. Besides that, Snow Flakes are sure to be oven-fresh because there's a Uneda Bakers bakery nearby. (It's just a little distance from oven to grocery store. And that counts!)

CLASS WORK TO BE CONDUCTED IN STORE ROOM

LA HABRA, April 20.—For the regular schedule of classes from the La Habra Grammar schools to be held in the downtown district during Public Schools week, the vacant store building on West Central avenue between the La Habra Mercantile company and the Epperly Drug store has been selected. School equipment for the various grade classes to be conducted from this location will be transported there from the schools, according

WHEN YOU'RE HEALTHY YOU'RE HAPPY!

The blame for "blue" days can be laid often to common constipation. It may bring loss of appetite and energy, sallow and pimply skins, even serious illness. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

Research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to relieve common constipation. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this better than taking patent medicines—so often harmful?

Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily, relieve most types of constipation. With each meal, in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Get the red and green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

KEEP ON THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

to the announcement made today by Superintendent of Schools E. R. Berry.

The school has been arranged to acquaint the public with the actual work being done in the classrooms and also the methods used in teaching. The classes will be selected from the various rooms of the three La Habra schools for the three days and classes will be held from 8:45 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

The educational program will close on next Wednesday starting at 6 p. m. with a dinner at the Washington school cafeteria under the sponsorship of the local P. T. A. at which time the Kiwanis club will hold its regular meeting. The dinner is open to the public and reservations should be made with A. C. Earley, secretary of the Kiwanis club, or E. R. Berry at the Washington school before Monday evening, April 23.

On Wednesday evening following the dinner, parents and guests will have the opportunity to visit the domestic science, manual training and art classes of the school being operated just as they are at regular class time.

A musical program in the auditorium will close the week's program on Wednesday evening, under the direction of Frank L. Barrows and Mrs. Ann Marie Marsh, music instructors in the schools.

BEACH WRITERS MEET

NEWPORT BEACH, April 20.—Frank Jones, of Santa Ana, short story writer and author of several books, spoke at this week's meeting of the Newport Beach Writers' club. The evening program included a general round table discussion of matters of interest to the club members and comment and criticism of plays, poems and short stories.

Those present were Mrs. Mabel Stanley, Miss Wilhelmina Breuer, Miss Crane, Mrs. W. W. Brown, Mrs. J. C. Denison, Lloyd Babcock, Cranston Stroup, the Rev. Russell C. Stroup and Frank Jones.

Newport Club To Omit Meetings In July and August

NEWPORT BEACH, April 20.—Decision not to hold weekly luncheon meeting of the Newport Harbor Service club Wednesday. Now officers will be elected at the first meeting in June.

The program included a talk by Floyd Howard, chief of police of Santa Ana, on the number of automobile accidents in the United States, and selections by an orchestra composed of Newport Harbor Union High school boys.

Harold Grauel, of Costa Mesa, was elected a new member of the club. It was voted to send good wishes to Jack Twist, club secretary, who is ill at his home. The Rev. Russell C. Stroup, president, presided.

Why deny yourself the opportunity to save money and time by going "shop" for ignition and electrical service for your car? Make it a point to drive here whenever such service is necessary, and enjoy full satisfaction!

You can Live and Thrive on Shredded Wheat, Milk and Fruit.. and Nothing Else

We don't expect you to, of course. Everybody likes to eat various kinds of food.

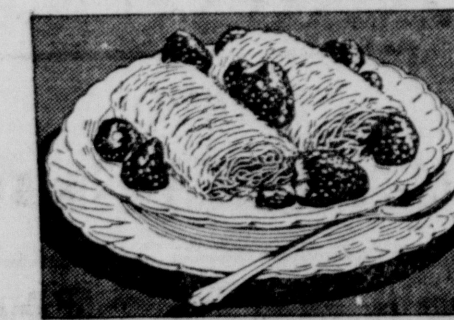

The fact of the matter is, however, that if you needed to economize, and if you wanted to be sure you were getting an adequate food supply—whether for a growing child or a working grown-up—Shredded Wheat, milk, and fruit would be all you would need.

That's why wise housewives give their families at least one meal a day of Shredded Wheat, milk, and fruit.

This remarkable food contains the carbohydrates you need for energy, the proteins for tissue building, the mineral salts for bone structure, the vitamins for resistance to disease, and bran to keep you regular. It is just whole wheat boiled and baked—nothing added, nothing taken away.

Shredded Wheat for breakfast keeps you going till lunch. Shredded Wheat for lunch means a clear head, good judgment, plenty of pep all afternoon. Eat plenty of it this summer. It will pay you big dividends in happiness and health.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

EDITH MCCLURE RE-ELECTED AS CLUB LEADER

LA HABRA, April 20.—Edith McClure was re-elected president of the Junior Girls' auxiliary to the La Habra Woman's club at the annual meeting held at the home of Miss Jean Little on North Fullerton road this week. Other officers elected included Katherine Peck, vice president; June Moody, secretary; Adeline Stempel, treasurer; Ruthmarie Launer, corresponding secretary.

An installation dinner and party will be held at the home of Maribel Frantz May 1 when the new officers will be installed and the mothers of the girls will be their guests.

Committees were appointed for several coming events. The first of these events is the dance to be held this evening at the Woman's clubhouse. Committees for this affair are, decorations, Norma Cook, Fern Jones, Ruthmarie Launer; refreshments, Vera Jane Journean, Katherine Peck and Adeline Harp; clean-up, Nellie Scofield, Ann Stanford and Louise Soule.

Those appointed to aid Maribel Frantz when she entertains at her home for the installation of the new officers are June Moody, Virginia Chandler, Adeline Stempel and Elve Welch. This installation party will take the place of the regular May meeting.

The annual party for this year has been planned for May 18 at the clubhouse. This affair will be arranged by Adeline Stempel, Maribel Frantz and June Moody. Entertainment for this affair will be arranged by Adeline Stempel, Virginia Chandler, and Elve Welch. The refreshment committee consists of Antonette Johnson, Jean Little, Evelyn Willard and Eunice Launer; decorations, Vera Jane Journean and Katherine Peck; clean-up, Norma Cook, Fern Jones and Ruthmarie Launer; orchestra, Fern Jones and June Moody.

Post, Auxiliary In Dinner Party

BREA, April 20.—Mrs. Cecile Finch, president of the American Legion auxiliary, and Floyd LaGraffe, commander of Brea Post No. 181 of the American Legion, united in bringing about a successful get-together of the two units in the Legion hall this week, the meeting opening with a pot-luck dinner served to more than 65 representing members and their families.

Following the dinner most of those present enjoyed playing bridge and "500." The committee in charge of the dinner and serving comprised Mrs. Vina Gesme, Mrs. Mildred Shoff and Mrs. Finch. Mrs. Ella Stumbo and Mrs. Elsie LaGraffe had charge of the card tables. A radio loaned by Frank Holly provided music for the evening.

A number of the auxiliary members met in the hall at noon today for a pot-luck luncheon and spent the afternoon sewing on various articles for the veterans at San Fernando.

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon
Cup of hot oyster or vegetable broth.
Orange and lettuce salad.
Mineral oil mayonnaise (2 table-spoons).

1/4 disk Ry-Krisp, unbuttered.
1 square inch of cheese.
Clear tea.

Use oysters now, for soon they will be taking their summer vacation. Six large oysters, finely diced and stewed in 1 cup of water with 1 teaspoon of butter, make the base for 3 cups of broth. Add hot skim milk, bring to a rapid scald, whip with the egg beater to make frothy, pour over minced parsley, salt and pepper in bowl.

Counting calories is a fascinating occupation if you can look in the back of the book for the answer. If you are obliged to dig them out for yourself, it's not so much fun.

I have a fine list, covering most of the foods commonly used in cooking. These foods have been arranged in their proper classifications, estimated in portions which are familiar to you. All you need do, is find the classification, and there will be the article valued at so many calories per table-spoonful, teaspoon, cup or ounce. Fruits, vegetables, grains are given as the whole article or in familiar ways of serving . . . and so on down the line.

You may have this list free of cost by enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request AND one of your favorite recipes.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Spaghetti a la Sicily
1 pound uncooked spaghetti.
1/4 pound dry grating cheese.
2 quarts canned tomatoes.
5 cloves garlic.
2 tablespoons olive oil.
2 tablespoons vinegar.
1 tablespoon salt.
1 teaspoon sugar.
1 teaspoon (scant) cayenne.

1/4 teaspoon cinnamon.
50 leaves fresh mint.
—Native recipe.

Cook the spaghetti in plenty of salted boiling water (about 1 1/2 hours). Drain and rinse under hot water. Return to kettle to keep warm.

Grate cheese and mix with finely chopped mint leaves (snip them fine with scissors).

Strain the hot tomatoes, add all other ingredients, mincing garlic very fine, and cook until like gruel.

When ready to serve take a big dish (soup tureen), lay first a 2-inch layer of spaghetti, then another layer of tomato sauce, and so on until the dish is almost full (sauce covering top). Spread cheese and mint an inch deep over top and serve at once with crisp hot French bread.

For a big supper party, friends who like such dishes, this would be real food. For smaller parties or home use, divide the recipe.

A rough estimate of the calories would make good-sized servings worth about 600 each. And are they huskies!

Saturday: Chateaufort of Salmon.

an enticing hot dish, using only a pound of salmon, fresh or canned.

LAND VALUES ARTIFICIALLY DEPRECIATED

We believe that a serious situation exists in Orange county which menaces the future welfare of our citrus growers, and the values of our agricultural lands.

This has been brought about by the policy of the Federal Land bank at Berkeley in the appraising and making of loans in Orange County on agricultural lands.

As we understand it, master value maps are being made containing each township in the state, and wherever an appraisal has been made in such township by appraisers of the land bank, that fact is shown on the map, together with the appraised value of the property as made by the appraisers of the land bank. In our opinion these maps will be used greatly in the future by lending agencies such as insurance companies, financial institutions, and other loan organizations.

The situation in Orange County arises from the fact that certain officials from the land bank at Berkeley have evidently instructed appraisers to appraise no orange grove or other citrus property to exceed one thousand dollars per acre. We have been informed by appraisers who are now working, or who formerly worked for the land bank, that such was the case. In fact appraisers have stated that if appraisals were made by them in an amount greater than that sum that their services were no longer used by the bank.

Undoubtedly much of the land appraised in Orange county for the federal land bank has been appraised by men wholly unfamiliar with Orange county values, Orange county soil or Orange county products.

Appraisers are schooled in academic theories or values and many of them use as a guide a publication which confines them to academic theories of averages, both as to character of land, productivity of soil, and values of the crops produced.

The Register, at all times, has been interested in keeping established land values in this section, and has worked toward that end, in season and out of season. Therefore, it views this tendency with chagrin.

Orange county simply does not fit into an academic theory of averages as we have the finest soil and receive greater prices for our crops possibly than any other county in the United States.

Appraisements here should be made on actual values by appraisers thoroughly familiar with the type and character of our soil and on actual values and returns.

We feel that Orange county is being severely endangered and while undoubtedly many persons have received loans who were badly in need of same, if it had been possible to get along without these loans, it is our opinion that the future of the county as to agricultural land values would be better off had no appraisals ever been made in the county by the land bank appraisers.

The only solution as we see it is that an entire re-appraisal of all property heretofore appraised, whether loans have actually been made or not, should be immediately made by land bank appraisers familiar with Orange county and that actual rather than academic theory be used in making such appraisals in order that Orange county will not appear on the master value maps with appraised values lower than land has sold for in Orange county for more than twenty years.

EMERGENCY EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM SHOULD BE CONTINUED

A project of considerable merit, from several angles, has been going forward here in Orange County, which is today in some jeopardy. We refer to the Emergency Educational Program. In some communities this has been synchronized so harmoniously with the Adult Educational Program that the abandonment of the Emergency Educational Program would not be fully appreciated until it was an accomplished fact. The Emergency Educational Program, which was outlined in general purpose by the Federal government, had set aside for its use a fund which was definitely designated to that purpose. Since the transfer of this administration from the Federal government to the State Emergency Relief (SER) the state administrators have shown a tendency to divert the money from the Emergency Educational Program to other purposes. The fate of the program rests with the State Emergency Relief board, which is meeting these next few days to decide between the continuance or abandonment of the Emergency Educational Program.

The Emergency Educational Program has served two outstanding purposes in Orange county. It has furnished employment to a group of unemployed people, who have taught in the classes, which have been patronized widely by citizens. Furthermore, attendance at these classes has formed a center of interest to many unemployed people whose morale naturally was at a low ebb, and would have been in worse state but for the classes.

The interest in the various classes, both in the Emergency Relief project, where it has been carried on in the country, and the adult educational class has been a great help to the general spirit and morale of the community.

Under the Emergency Educational Program school and class projects have been carried on in Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Garden Grove, Laguna Beach and Newport Harbor. A payroll of close to $550 a week has come into the county and been distributed to teachers who otherwise would have been without any means of support. Fifty-five teachers have been on this payroll. The logic behind the CWA "lay-off" has been that seasonal work would absorb the men workers laid off. This does not apply to these teachers who would be laid off at this time for the work of all teachers ceases shortly, with the summer vacation, and there is nothing else to take its place.

The teachers belong to a class of people who have had resources to tide them over a period of unemployment. If they did not have such resources they could not have accomplished the education which has fitted them for their chosen work. However, the long period which they have passed through without employment has brought them to a point of exhaustion now. Their plight is the more pitiful because it is so zealously concealed.

It is to be hoped that the SER commission now meeting will continue to relegate funds to the continuance of this project and fulfill the two very excellent purposes which have been stressed by the present administration, namely, care for those in want and do what it is possible to do to keep up the morale of those who have reason to be discouraged.

WAR FOR PROFIT

The senate of the United States has appointed another investigating committee to add to the long list of those which have been investigating a number of other interests allegedly inimical to the public welfare. This committee has been instructed to look into the activities of business concerns engaged in the manufacture of munitions.

Senator Borah recently made an address in the senate on this matter, and if what he said is only half true, the nations of Europe, as well as the United States, have been the victims of a deep-laid plan to foment suspicion among them in the interest of increased armaments; this for no other purpose than that the manufacturers of munitions might make huge profits for themselves. Many may recall the boastings of the man Shearer when an earlier international conference for the reduction of armaments went on the rocks at Geneva. Because he felt himself cheated on his detestable work he "peached" on them. For years this man had been employed by munitions makers to spread false propaganda and to use sinister influence upon those who were connected with disarmament conferences.

Senator Borah, in his recent speech, effectively quoted "chapter and verse" to prove that the nations are in the grip of these selfish manufacturers of munitions. Quoting from an article in Fortune, he points out that it takes $25,000 to kill a soldier, and the profits of that sort of business go largely to the manufacturers of munitions. These manufacturers of arms know nothing of national loyalties. The Bethlehem Steel company, despite the announcement of Charles M. Schwab, its head, made before the cadets of West Point in 1927, that the Bethlehem Steel company had definitely abandoned the thought of ever again engaging in the manufacture of ordnance except in times of great national emergency, still lists armor plate, projectiles, gun and shell forgings, battleships, battle cruisers, scout cruisers, destroyers, submarines, and airplane carriers, as among the products of the corporation.

The Vickers-Armstrongs in England, the greatest munition makers in the world, have branch factories in Roumania, Czechoslovakia, Japan, Spain, Canada, Ireland, Holland and New Zealand. The British delegation at the disarmament conference in 1932 had among its advisors a brother of one of the directors of this concern. The munition makers are not concerned about where their products go so long as they make huge profits from their manufacture. And we have this paradox, that, in the event of a war with Japan, which we are told by interested parties is among the possibilities, our soldiers would be killed by the munitions sold by their own compatriots in the United States to the enemy.

"No treaty," says Senator Borah, "no law made by man or God, controls munition manufacturers." Not until these munition manufacturers are forbidden by law to make armaments for foreign nations will a remedy be found for this sinister influence which breeds suspicion and fear for the sake of profit.

Russian Arctic Explorers

Russian explorers, under the leadership of Professor Schmidt, have done remarkable work in the Arctic north of Siberia during the last four years. It has been the purpose of their Government to set up meteorological stations on isolated islands in the far north, to explore regions as yet but vaguely known, to establish settlements if life can be maintained through the year, to open a summer route for trading between Archangel and Vladivostok with the aid of ice-breakers, and to make a study of fishing and hunting prospects.

In November, 1932, Professor Schmidt arrived at Yokohama on the ice-breaker Siberiakoff after making the first Arctic passage in one season between Europe and Asia. He and his fellow-scientists were received with cordiality by the Japanese Premier. Afterward the Russians traveled by the Trans-Siberian Express to Moscow, and, as The New York Times correspondent said, theirs was "a triumphal journey, like the return of a victorious Roman general." In the same year two-way radio communication was effected between Franz Josef Land and Moscow. Several parties were housed on the northernmost islands for scientific research. One ice-breaker was lost with her crew.

The great adventure of 1933-34 was the voyage of the Chelyuskin, with Professor Schmidt in command, from Murmansk, to a point 155 miles off North Cape, Siberia, and 400 miles west of Cape Lisburne, Alaska, where, crushed by the ice, she sank. Crew and passengers, including several women and children, escaped to the pack and lived, anxiously waiting for rescue, for almost two months. No more dramatic story has come out of the north for a long while. And it has been told almost from day to day, thanks to radio communication and, recently, to the daring and skill of Russian aviators. From time to time transfers to the mainland by airplane were made of members of the original party of 109; a small number told their perilous way over the ice to the shore. Out of the ordeal came Professor Schmidt with enhanced reputation for unselfish courage. He now lies, ill, in a Nome hospital.

WEARY WAITING

If Billy were a pirate.
A big bewhiskered pirate.
Quite unafraid
To play his trade
However it might storm.
He'd change his way of living.
Turn kindly and forgiving.
As every good
Ex-pirate should:
In short, he would reform.

He'd sail the wide seas over.
Not as a wicked rover.
But gaze about
Till he made out
A rakish vessel near.
Then train his cannon at her.
Her hull and masts to shatter.
So no more she Could ever be
An evil privateer.

But pirates bold and sneering
Are swiftly disappearing;
Day after day
In dire dismay
One has to wait and wait.
They may have all departed
Before his course is charted
Across the wide
And surging tide—
And he is only eight!

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

SHORT LEGS AND HIGH STEPS

Santiago, in far off Chile, buys its street cars from Philadelphia. The Philadelphia builders furnish the Chilean public with standard American street cars.

The other day a press despatch from Asturo, Herrera against these standard American street cars. His protest was not born of South American prejudice against North American peoples or policies. Such prejudice exists. It is one of the factors with which American diplomacy and American commerce must continuously deal. But Herrera's protest was cut from a different bolt of cloth.

His protest was very simple: The folk of the United States are, by and large, long-legged. The folk of Chile are, by and large, short-legged. Yet the Philadelphia builders of street cars build cars with high steps that are comfortable for long-legged Americans and inconvenient for short-legged Chileans.

Herrera seemingly had no objection to having Chilean street cars built in Philadelphia, but he would like to have them built for Chileans rather than for Americans. He would like low steps for short legs.

There is here, I think, a profound parable for American statesmen.

An economic policy or a political program, no less than a street car, should be built for the particular people who are to use it. We can learn much from the Russian experiment in Communism. We can learn much from the Italian experiment in Fascism. They were hand-made to fit the folk of Russia and Italy. We must face some bold changes. But they, too, must be hand-made to fit the American people.

There is a tradition and background of private initiative that did not exist either in Russia or in Italy. The American spirit will not tolerate the Russian or Italian. There have been sins galore committed in the name of private initiative in the United States. These grosser sins must be organized against. But there is no reason why we should burn down the house to kill the rats.

We must exercise the devil of monopoly and speculation, but we must preserve the dynamic of private initiative.

If we do, the American System will be going strong when the Communists and Fascists of the period are but relics of dead yesterdays.

DANGER AHEAD

I am writing this to the girls because it is they who will suffer most if the warning is not heeded. We have just seen the last of prohibition. It had its good points and its bad ones. We need not discuss them. The liquor situation of today is going to give us all we can do and the girls must carry the heavy end of the load of responsibility for the future in its relation to drinking.

For some time now it has been rather smart to drink hard liquor. Even those who did not drink looked with sympathy at those who did. They had at least the glory of standing up for their personal rights, for their freedom of choice. Be that as it may, the time has come now to exercise that freedom, to stand or fall on the exercises of those rights.

The right of the individual to follow his own inclinations is to my mind, indisputable. His right to injure others does not exist. The father who drinks to excess is a man or woman who is closely allied to him in ties of family relationship and friendship. I for one deny him his right to inflict that injury. But given his liberty of choice, and his decision to choose selfishly, what then? Bar him out. Let him go his way alone.

That is where the girls come in. We who have lived through the saloon era fear it effect on family life, especially upon the children. The father who drinks to excess is a blight upon his family. He lowers its status socially, morally, physically, in every way possible. He makes his wife's life miserable. He ruins her health, destroys her happiness. He is a cloud on the lives of his children. A man may choose to drink to excess but his chosen partner can refuse to sanction such a habit. Can refuse to share in his wrecking. That's where the girls are deeply concerned.

It is usually considered funny to strike an attitude and chant derisively, "The lips that touch Honor shall never touch mine." It is not funny to me. I understand the heartbreak, the bitterness of the tragedy that lie behind the worn words. I saw too much of the sorrow that excessive drinking caused mothers and children and fathers and husbands, to smile at the spiritual bulwark those words symbolized. Drink, in excess, murdered many a lovely home and many a fine family. And the women and children bore the brunt of the burden every time.

I believe in temperance for grownup people. I believe in total abstinence for children. I believe that girls should be taught not only to shun hard liquor, for themselves, but to shun the young men who make a practice of drinking hard liquor, of getting drunk. They are unsafe. As heads of households, as responsible workers, as good citizens, are are a total failure.

An intelligent girl will take this question of temperance into consideration where young men are concerned. She will set him an example of temperance. She will demand that he live up to it or forfeit her friendship. She will not ride in the car such a young man drives because it is unsafe. She will not trust him with her life under any circumstances, which means she will not marry him. She will select as the father of her children, a man of self control, a man of good habits, a temperate man.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.
